3 Greek Villages Attacked By Bands Of Yugoslav Reds

KOZANE, Greece (AP)—Divisional headquarters here said three northern Greek villages were attacked and one burned by bands "directed by Communist agents infiltrating into Greece daily from Albania and Yugoslavia."

A Greek post on the Yugoslav frontier fought off a band estimated at 500, the headquarters added, and army units sped out of Kozane Monday night on information that another frontier attack was scheduled for midnight.

South of here Leftist bands, staging their second field day on the Elasson-Kozane highway, knocked out six badly needed food trucks. Three trucks were captured and taken into fastnesses around the foot of Mount Olympus. One was burned and two turned back after the drivers and passengers had been robbed of money, clothes and baggage.

Headquarters said 200 attackers shouting: "Yugoslav Yells," burned the village of Exohi Monday night, and that six outlaws died in a two-hour fight at Krievrissi. Exohi is 12 miles north of Kozane and Krievrissi is nearby.

The Yugoslav frontier army post was attacked two nights ago and a nearby village sacked.

Col. Spiros Mandas, Kozane headquarters commandant, said the small Greek army was "finding great difficulty in checking the influx of Communist agents, arms and propaganda sifting through the rugged frontier country from Yugoslavia and Albania."

3 Teen-Age Boys With Guns Arrested

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Montreal boys, two aged 15 and one 14, were arrested Monday and charged with attempted armed hold-up and carrying concealed weapons after three loaded .32 calibre revolvers were found in their possession.

Police today said the boys entered the store of Alfred A. Shaffer of Ottawa, pointed revolvers at him, but beat a hurried retreat when Shaffer grappled with one of them.

The youths claimed they had run away from their homes and were going to hitch-hike to Calgary.

Dreamboat Cancels Atlantic Speed Trip

PARIS (CP)—United States army air force officials said tonight that Col. C. S. Irvine had canceled his attempt to try for a trans-Atlantic flight record in the B-29 Pacusan Dreamboat because he must attend a conference in Westover, Mass. No details were given.

Earlier the Dreamboat had set out for an assault on the Atlantic speed record, but returned to Paris less than three hours later because of fouled sparkplugs.

Brecheen Stops Boston In Last 2 Innings For Third Pitching Victory

The fighting St. Louis Cardinals, underdogs in the annual fall classic of baseball with the Boston Red Sox, today won the World Series from the American League champions by a 4 to 3 count in one of the most exciting finishes in the history of the post-season playoffs, as Harry Brecheen came off the bench with only one day's rest to stop the Red Sox cold in the final two innings and emerge with his third victory of the series over Joe Cronin's sluggers. Harry Walker was the big gun in the Cardinal's attack as he doubled home the winning run in the last of the eighth with his second hit of the day.

FIRST INNING

Red Sox—Moses singled through the middle of the diamond. Pesky smacked a bounding single over second base sending Moses to third. DiMaggio flied to deep right field, Moses scoring easily after the catch as Musial cut off Slaughter's throw-in. Pesky held first on the play. Williams flied deep to Moore in straight centre. Schoendienst trotted out into short right field to catch York's pop fly. One run, two hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals—Schoendienst drilled a single through the hole between third and short and when Williams momentarily bobbled the ball in left field Schoendienst tried to make second but was out, Williams to Pesky who made the tag as Schoendienst slid in. York came in on the grass to catch Moore's infield pop along the first base line. Musial lined a double over third base along the left field line. Slaughter watched a third strike breeze by. No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING

Red Sox—Doerr beat out a high bounder to Kurowski and ran to second when Kurowski's throw to first was low and bounced away from Musial. Catcher Garagiola, who backed up the play at first, retrieved the ball holding Doerr at second. Doerr was credited with a single and Kurowski with an error. Higgins bounced out, Schoendienst to Musial, sending Doerr to third. H. Wagner raised a fly to Walker in short left and Doerr was forced to hold third when Walker threw hurriedly plateward. Walker raced toward the left field corner and made an over-the-shoulder catch of Ferriss' long drive. No runs, one hit, one error, one left.

Cardinals — Kurowski broke his bat on a line foul drive to left field, then doubled to left-centre with another bat. DiMaggio's fine backhand stop prevented a triple. Garagiola rolled out, Doerr to York. Kurowski stopping at third. Walker lined to Williams in left-centre, Kurowski racing in from third after the catch as Williams was off balance after hauling down the rising liner. The tally tied the score at 1 to 1. Marion bounced out, Doerr to York. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING

Red Sox—A foul off Moses' bat landed on Garagiola's right instep and after a couple of moments' time out, the young receiver continued to play. Moses then fouled out to Kurowski between third and home, the first time he had been retired in six straight trips to the plate. Schoendienst got in front of Pesky's hot grounder and easily threw him out. DiMaggio went down on strikes looking at the third one. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals—Dickson went down swinging. Pesky scooped up Schoendienst's wicked grounder with his gloved hand and tossed to first for the out. Moore flied to Williams. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING

Red Sox—Walker raced into centre field to make a running catch of Williams' long curving fly. After catching the ball, Walker collided with Moore, but held on to the ball. York struck out swinging at a roundhouse curve. Doerr flied to Slaughter in deep right-centre field. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left

FIFTH INNING

Red Sox—Moore made a spectacular backhanded running catch of Higgins' blazing liner which was headed for the left-centre field wall. It was by far the best fielding play of the series. H. Wagner fouled out to Kurowski who made the catch near the left-field boxes while running with his back to the plate. Ferriss sent a high bouncer to Dickson between first and the pitcher's mound and was an easy out, Dickson to Musial. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals—Walker singled past Pesky's outstretched glove. Marion sacrificed, York fielding his bunt along the first base line and throwing to Doerr who covered first. Dickson dumped a double over third scoring Walker to put the Cardinals ahead, 2 to 1. Schoendienst smashed the first pitch over second base for a single scoring Dickson. Joe Dobson, a right-hander, hurriedly began warming up in the Red Sox bullpen. Moore belted a single into centrefield sending Schoendienst to second. That was all for Ferriss. Joe Dobson, winner of the fifth game of the series, went into pitch for the Sox. Musial bounced out, Doerr to York, advancing both runners. Slaughter was purposely passed filling the baes. Higgins backed up for Kurowski's bouncer and whipped to Doerr at second to force Slaughter. Two runs, four hits, n errors, three left.

SIXTH INNING

Red Sox—Moses bounced out to Musial, unassisted. Pesky rapped an outside pitch on a line to Kurowski who made the catch. Dickson issued his first walk when he passed DiMaggio on five pitches. Williams sent a skyscraper to right field where Slaughter made the catch. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

Cardinals — Garagiola struck out, swinging at a three-and-two pitch. Walker walked on four straight pitches. Doerr threw out Marion, Walker taking second. Dickson received a great hand from the crowd as he came to bat and hit the first pitch on one bounce to Doerr who easily threw him out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

SEVENTH INNING

Red Sox—York struck out, going down swinging for the second straight time. Doerr flied to Moore who stood in his tracks to make the catch. Marion scooped up Higgins' grounder on two bounces and tossed him out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals—Schoendienst missed a three-and-two pitch to become Dobson's second strikeout victim. Doerr collided with Moses going after Moore's fly in short right field but held on to the ball for the out. Doerr limped around for several moments, apparently having suffered a spike wound in his collision with Moses but continued in the game. Dobson knocked down Musial's hot smash back to the box and tossed to first for an easy out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING

Red Sox—Rip Russell, a right-handed hitter, batted for H. Wagner, who went hitless in 13 official trips to the plate in the series. Russell took a ball, then lined a single over second base into centre field. It was Russell's second successful pinch-hit appearance. Harry Brecheen and George Munger, a left-hander and right-hander respectively, began warming up in the Cardinal bullpen. George Metkovich, a left-handed hitter, batted for Dobson. Metkovich doubled down the left field foul line and Russell, slow rounding second base, had to hold up at third. Brecheen, who won two of the three Cardinal games, replaced Dickson on the mound. Apparently unheeding Umpire Hubbard's call the left-hander had to be personally escorted by the umpire from the bullpen. Bob Klinger, a right-hander, and Johnson started warming up in the Red Sox bullpen. Brecheen struck out Moses on three pitches as Moses watched a screwball cut the outside corner for the third strike. Slaughter came in fast to catch Pesky's low liner and held the runners on their bases with a throw to the infield which was cut off by Musial. Howie Pollet, a southpaw, joined Munger in the Cardinal bullpen. DiMaggio doubled off the right centre field wall scoring Russell and Metkovich tieing the score at 3 to 3. DiMaggio twisted his right ankle rounding first base and Leon Culberson was sent in to run for him. Garagiola split the third finger of his right hand on a foul tip off Williams' bat. Del Rice replaced Garagiola behind the plate for the Cardinals. Schoendienst ran out to short right field to catch Williams' towering fly close to the foul line. Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left.

Cardinals—Culbertson replaced DiMaggio in centre field, Roy Partee went behind the bat, and Bob Klinger went to the mound for the Red Sox. It was announced that DiMaggio had pulled a muscle in his right leg while running out his double in the top of the eighth inning. Slaughter took a ball, then reached out and slapped a single over second base into centre field. Kurowski attempted to sacrifice but bunted a little pop fly between the mound and first base which Klinger caught, and Slaughter had to scamper back to first to avoid being doubled up. Williams loped back to the left field wall to get under and catch Rice's long high fly. Walker doubled over Pesky's head and Slaughter continued around third and scored ahead of the relay from Culberson to Pesky to Partee. Pesky hesitated with the ball long enough for Slaughter to slide in ahead of his frenzied delayed throw to the plate. Walker was credited with a run batted in. Earl Johnson, a southpaw, replaced Klinger on the mound for the Red Sox. Marion was purposely passed. Brecheen bounced out—Doerr to York. One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING

Red Sox—York bounced a single past Kurowski into left field. Paul Campbell ran for York. Doerr dropped a single into short left, Campbell stopping at second. Higgins attempted to sacrifice but forced Doerr at second, Kurowski to Marion. The shortstop's attempt for a double play barely missed as Higgins beat his relay to first while Campbell advanced to third. Doerr apparently still bothered by the injury suffered in his collision with Moses earlier in the game, limped off the field. Partee fouled to Musial near the boxes between first and home and the runners were forced to hold their bases. Tom McBride, a right-handed hitter, batted for Johnson. McBride rolled to Schoendienst who fielded the ball near second base and tossed underhand to Marion forcing Higgins at second to end the game and the series. No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

Children To Go Cold

LONDON (CP)—In order to save coal London's council schools have been ordered not to light fires unless the temperature falls below 50 degrees. A London County Council directive said children should be encouraged to wear their heaviest clothing in class and, as a further aid to warmth, be given calisthenics every hour.

Maritimes Study Freight Rates Move

HALIFAX (CP) — An announcement from Province House said the Nova Scotia government would discuss with the transportation commission of the Maritime Boards of Trade the application of the railways of Canada for a general increase of 30 per cent in freight rates.

After the discussion, the announcement said, the government will decide what course of action is to be taken.

The Transportation Commission is supported financially by the three Maritime governments.

Canada Offers Facts On Uranium Mining

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian delegate on the Atomic Energy Commission, offered Monday to give the United Nations information on Canada's uranium and thorium mining.

Gen. McNaughton said the Canadian government was ready to help give a picture of the mining of atomic materials in the Dominion. Canada could supply considerable information on the first stage of atomic production because of her uranium and thorium mines.

Earlier the commission's political committee had held a closed meeting attended by prominent nuclear physicists who had been invited to attend for advice and discussion. It was decided to begin study of the atomic production process at the raw material stage.

Under a rotation system by which the chairmanship of the commission changes monthly, Col. Mahomed Bey Khalifa of Egypt has succeeded Gen. McNaughton as chairman.

An agreement has been reached for installation of water mains in the Parklands subdivision in Esquimalt at a cost of $5,100, Ald. J. A. Worthington, water board chairman, says. Those planning the subdivision will pay one-third the cost and for the trenching and filling with the city paying the remainder. The city will collect $40 frontage tax for connections to each household.

Loan Convention Here Ends Today

Three officials of the Washington State Savings and Loan League, concluding a four-day convention at the Empress Hotel today are, left to right: M. L. Carrier, president of the Centralia Federal Savings and Loan Association; Loren Grunstead, legal counsel of the Washington Savings and Loan League, and W. W. Manier, president of the Capital Savings and Loan Association, Olympia, former president of the savings and loan league.

Calvin W. Stewart, left, president of the State Savings and Loan Association of Tacoma and past president of the Washington Savings and Loan Association, and Kingston S. Lester, former supervisor of the savings and loan association in the Washington state government, and vice-president of the savings and loan league.

'Tramp Ship Of Air' On Visit As Part Of Exhibition Tour

The first British airplane designed as a freight carrier, the Bristol Freighter, paid Victoria a visit Monday, bringing and carrying back to their home city the Vancouver Meralomas football team of 28 players and three officials.

The big aircraft arrived at Patricia Bay in the morning and remained there until 5.45, when it returned to Vancouver. It arrived in Vancouver from Edmonton Sunday afternoon after a trip through icing clouds which drove it up to 17,800 feet on the flight across the Rockies.

Known as "the tramp ship of the air" because of its ability to carry heavy loads at low cost and to land and take-off on small airfields with runways of 600 yards or less, the Bristol Freighter is Britain's first bid for a world market in air freight carriers. Its visit to British Columbia marks the half-way point on a 30,000-mile exhibition tour of almost every country in North, Central and South America designed to show that the British aircraft industry is among the leaders in the new but fast-developing field of air freight.

First public appearance of the British visitor on this side of the Atlantic was at Toronto's International Air Show. Since then her captain and crewmembers have given demonstrations of their aircraft's performance and speedy method of loading and unloading freight and vehicles to air lines executives and aviation authorities in air centres of Canada and the United States.

MADE MERCY TRIP

A trip was made to Yellowknife, gold-mining town in the North West Territories. Returning from Yellowknife, after taking up a demonstration cargo of 7,500 pounds from Edmonton, the freighter rushed a badly burned Eskimo boy back to the Alberta capital for an urgent skin grafting operation, taking off in the nick of time before the weather closed down, and flying nearly the whole of the 620 miles through ice-forming cloud.

In Vancouver until Friday, the new aircraft will undergo a 100-hour inspection by the technical staff of British Aeroplane Engines Ltd., under the direction of L. F. Osborne, plant manager, and J. McCracken, plant superintendent.

On Friday, Tim Sims of Montreal, captain of the Freighter on its lengthy tour, will take his aircraft to Seattle, and will continue from there to Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. From California they will head for Mexico.

Other members of the Freighter's crew are Colin Richardson, co-pilot and navigator, of London, technical expert with the Sperry Gyroscope Co.; James Hannington, power plant engineer, and Frank Burrows, aircraft engineer, both from the Bristol Aeroplane Co.'s headquarters, Bristol; and Ralph Paulett of the Marconi Co., London, radio operator.

With a number of novel features, the big aircraft, which is painted a brilliant sky blue, has already aroused much interest.

DOORS IN NOSE

Its most striking feature is the method of loading and unloading freight and vehicles. This is done through the nose of the fuselage, which consists of two big doors. When these are open, the capacious hold looks like a long box-car. Freight is moved in and out from trucks backed up to the wide doorway, and autos, trucks or other vehicles for shipment are driven up a ramp right into the aircraft under their own power.

The Bristol Freighter is a high-wing monoplane with a maximum payload capacity of six tons. It is powered by two Bristol Hercules engines, civil developments of the famous Hercules engines that contributed to winning the war by their service in Beaufighters, Stirlings, Sunderlands, Halifaxes and other fighting aircraft. Each develops 1,675 b.h.p. at take-off.

An interesting feature of the new British ship is the fixed undercarriage, selected by Bristol experts instead of the retractable type to reduce weight and increase payload capacity. Maximum speed of the Freighter is 226 m.p.h.

Winnipeg Bombers Blank Roughriders

REGINA (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers slugged through ankle-deep mud to splatter Saskatchewan Roughriders 9 to 0 in a western Canada senior football game today before some 400 shivering fans at Campion College gridiron.

On the final play of the game halfback Harry Hood picked a hole from the Regina one-yard line to rally the major score of the game which brought the Bombers even with Calgary Stampeders for first place in the league. Centre Mel Wilson came back from the line to make the convert.

Liberal Women Elect Officers

Mrs. T. C. Smith, Mrs. F. F. Beckett and Mrs. Blair Reid were elected by acclamation to the offices of president, vice-president and treasurer, respectively, at the first fall meeting of the Liberal Women's Forum held at headquarters Friday. Nominated for the executive were Mesdames Rod McKenzie, E. E. Bell, J. L. Gates, W. B. Mortimer, M. C. Brinn, J. Slator, J. Rodgers and G. Wise.

Mrs. H. I. McKenzie was in the chair.

Mrs. Blair Reid, treasurer, reported a balance of $35.37 and Mrs. A. Lucas gave a summary of the Local Council of Women and a report on price control and conservation of food received from the National Council of Women.

At the annual meeting, to be held at headquarters Nov. 8 at 2, election of officers will be completed. The speaker will be from the Greater Victoria Recreation Council.

Hallowe'en Dance—The Royal Jubilee Alumnae executive held a meeting recently at the home of Miss Rae Kirkendale, the president. Final plans were made for a Hallowe'en dance at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Oct. 31. Proceeds will be used for the new maternity pavilion.

Proposed Italian Treaty Stops Soviet Expansion To Westward

PARIS (AP) — Soviet expansion to the west was halted last week along a line running north from Trieste when the Paris Peace Conference adopted by a two-thirds majority a proposed Italian treaty clearly defining the Yugoslav-Italian frontier.

The draft treaty also would create an international zone around Trieste, and the Adriatic port itself would become a free city serving both Yugoslavia and Italy, as well as landlocked countries to the north and east.

TITO BALKS

Fifteen of the 21 powers represented at the conference voted in favor of the new Yugoslavian border, although Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government had warned that it would not sign the treaty in its present form.

Russian-backed Yugoslavia had demanded the whole of Istria from Italy. But the United States and Great Britain firmly refused to agree to strip Italy of all of that territory.

As a consequence, the conference adopted a French compromise which would give Yugoslavia Fiume and the Pola sectors of Istria.

The possibility of war was raised when Yugoslavia stated flatly she would refuse to remove her troops, estimated at 14 divisions, from Istria.

The western bloc, calling Yugoslavia's hand, pushed through a U.S. amendment stipulating that only countries which sign the Italian treaty will benefit from its provisions.

Thus, if Yugoslavia refuses to sign, she would be shorn of any legal claim to territory west of her 1939 border, and would have to forfeit her one-third share of the $225,000,000 Italy must pay Yugoslavia, Greece and Ethiopia in reparations.

The internationalization of Trieste was fundamentally a compromise, resulting after the Foreign Ministers were unable to agree whether Istria should be Yugoslavian or Italian.

Joe North announced today a total of $59 was collected at Saturday's Coast League soccer game from the sale of programs. Half of this sum went to the Solarium and the other half to Mr. North's Christmas Fund.

Howe Backs Plan For Air Park Here

Plan of the Memorial Air Park Association to establish an air park for light private planes on the 57-acre former naval property at Gordon Head has won the blessing of Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe.

In a letter to R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., today, Mr. Howe said he would do everything he could to secure the property for the Memorial Air Park Association's project.

"I would like to have the property in the hands of the municipality and I hope the project for a small air port can be worked out successfully," Mr. Howe said.

Govt. Takes Over Hungary's Industries

BUDAPEST (AP) — Minister of Industry Antal Ban announced today the Hungarian government had assumed control by decree of the country's major industries until reparations were paid. (The Paris Peace Conference fixed a $300,000,000 bill for Hungary.)

France Accepts New Constitution

PARIS (CP) — A constitution for France's Fourth Republic, providing for a powerful legislature overshadowing the President, today bore the stamp of public approval, given in the face of Gen. de Gaulle's opposition.

The people of continental France accepted the new constitution Sunday by a margin of some 1,212,000 votes—and a percentage of 53.6 in favor to 46.4 opposed. Voting was light, with 31.9 per cent of the registered voters abstaining.

CALLED INADEQUATE

Gen. de Gaulle, wartime leader of the Fighting French, had contended the charter was inadequate because under it the executive would be too weak. The result, nevertheless, was regarded as a strong testimony for the general, as almost single-handedly he nearly defeated the constitution, which was backed by France's three major parties.

LONDON (Reuter)—Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, former commander of the 1st Canadian Army, left the Northolt airport today for Canada. He was in England for consultations at the War Office.

Conference Ends; Yugoslavs Withdraw From Final Paris Meet

PARIS (AP)—The Paris Peace Conference officially ended at 5.28 p.m. (8.28 a.m., P.S.T.) today.

Yugoslavia had earlier withdrawn officially from the Conference as the delegates of 21 countries conducted their final session.

The Yugoslav delegation, which had contended strongly but without success for the Italian port of Trieste, addressed a letter to the conference chairman, Quo Tai-chi of China, announcing Yugoslavia would not participate in the final approval of the conference decisions and would not associate herself with the recommendations.

The action followed denunciation Monday by Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia of some of the conference's decisions as "unsatisfactory," suggesting that questions such as Trieste, free navigation of the Danube and the Bulgarian-Greek border would be reopened when the Foreign Ministers' Council meets in New York Nov. 4 to draft the final terms for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

Deputy Premier Edvard Kardelj of Yugoslavia, who wrote the withdrawal letter, said his country was withdrawing its protest against what he termed "unjust decisions" imposed upon Yugoslavia by asserted ruthlessness in "outvoting."

Delegates, meanwhile, made preparations to depart for home or for further international debate at the United Nations' General Assembly in New York, beginning Oct. 23.

Foreign Ministers of the Big Four arranged to meet in New York Nov. 4 to take final action on the five peace pacts written here and to begin work on a treaty for Germany.

The conference had no authority except to make treaty recommendations to the Big Four, which in turn will submit the treaties to the United Nations' General Assembly for final ratification.

Specifications For Transport System Franchise Presented To City Council

(See page 12 for details of routes).

Almost a year's intensive work culminated this afternoon when Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria transportation committee, presented terms of the specifications for the unified transportation system for Greater Victoria to the City Council for final ratification.

Included in the specifications for the 20-year franchise were provisions for the discontinuance of the present streetcar system within 18 months, payment of $650,000 by the successful company towards the cost of removing the streetcar tracks, a transfer system, annual payment to the municipalities of 4 per cent of gross earnings, or a minimum sum of $35,000 yearly, and the opportunity of the municipalities to acquire ownership of the system at five-year intervals.

A summary of the terms of the specifications, which take up 19 typed foolscap pages are as follows:

1. The terms of the franchise are to establish, maintain and operate a public transportation system in and upon the streets of the area, but exclude cars hired for private use or motor buses hired for church or school purposes.

Provision Made For Trolley Buses

2. The franchise will extend for 20 years, during which the successful company will have the exclusive right to establish, maintain and operate a complete transportation system on the streets of the area. This includes the right to inaugurate a trolley-bus system for parts of the area.

3. "Nothing in the franchise shall permit the operation of the present streetcar system beyond a period of 18 months from the date of granting of the franchise, provided a sufficient number of coaches of suitable size and type, together with the necessary equipment, is available."

4. The franchise is to become effective in the Saanich portion of the area on the termination of the present franchise operating there.

5. The $50,000 cheque accompanying each bid is to be divided as follows: $20,000 to Victoria; $10,000 each to Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich, which will be returned if the tender is not accepted or if it is turned down by one or more of the municipal councils after being recommended by the transportation committee.

6. This cheque will be held after the franchise is granted until a surety bond for $100,000 is posted by the winning company, to go to the municipalities in the same proportions as the $50,000 cheque. The $10,000 will be retained as a bond for the duration of the franchise.

7. If more territory is added to the municipalities, the transportation service shall be extended to include the new area, or if any area secedes from the municipalities, that area will be "removed from the terms and conditions of the franchise.

8. Routes are set out in considerable detail.

9. Provision is made for extension of routes, or establishment of new ones if the transportation committee should find such service is reasonably necessary to provide adequate transportation.

Municipalities Will Designate Stops

10. The municipalities will designate coach stops, which shall be equipped with markers by the company. Traffic rules and regulations are to be established by the municipalities "to expedite the movement of the company's transportation equipment."

11. Where municipalities must fill in sections of boulevard or widen paved portions of street to accommodate loading zones for buses, the company shall pay the municipality concerned 25 per cent of the cost of constructing such coach stop facilities.

12. The company must maintain its rolling stock in good repair at all times, and have in service a sufficient number of coaches to take care of and provide for the normal passenger traffic at all times. It must state what type of vehicle is to be employed on each route or portion of a route.

13. If more than one company is operating under franchise in the area, schedules, approved by the transportation committee, must be devised to permit "transferring from one system to any other conveniently and without undue waiting at the transfer points."

14. No schedule of fares is set out in the specification, the tendering company being asked to set out the schedule proposed. Only proviso is that the fare to be charged within the area, or within a three and a half-mile radius of the Victoria City Hall shall be one and the same.

15. Transfers shall be issued on revenue fares only, and policemen and firemen employed by all municipalities shall be carried free when in uniform.

16. Should more than one company hold a franchise to operate within the area, transfers given by any company holding a franchise shall be good on all public transportation systems throughout the area.

16. Each municipality shall remove or cover all streetcar tracks on its own streets and pave the streets concerned. To assist in the costs of this the successful company shall pay $650,000 as its share of such work.

17. Where trolley-buses are to be used the company may install overhead wires, but if trolley-buses are discontinued on any route these wires are to be removed immediately. On termination of the franchise the entire trolley system is to be removed by the company at its own cost unless otherwise agreed.

18. The company may make street excavations for its pole or wire installations, but shall see that such streets are repaired and restored to good order without unnecessary delay. After this is done the municipality takes on the maintenance of the streets in good condition.

19. The municipalities agree to keep the streets on which the routes run in good condition so that the vehicles can move safely over them.

20. The company agrees to keep the municipalities from being involved in claims, liabilities or damages arising out of the operation of the vehicles on the streets.

21. The municipalities shall have first right to take over the properties and undertakings of the company in the event that a lease, assignation or sub-letting is contemplated during the term of the franchise.

4 Per Cent Of Earnings Goes To Cities

22. The company shall pay 4 per cent of gross earnings annually to the municipalities in quarterly installments. Payment to each municipality shall be based on the percentage of the vehicle miles operated in the municipality of the total operated in the area. Minimum to be paid annually is $35,000.

23. The agreement will terminate if the company wilfully fails to comply with any of the terms or conditions of the franchise, or goes into bankruptcy.

24.—In such event the transportation committee may take possession of the rolling stock of the company and operate them for 12 months as a public utility.

25. The municipalities may take over the system at the fifth, tenth, fifteenth or twentieth year, after giving 12 months' notice of such intention.

26. During the last five years of the franchise, if not publicly owned by this time, a renewal may be negotiated before the termination of the franchise.

27. In the employment of personnel the successful company shall give first consideration to those employed in the three transportation companies now operating in Greater Victoria. Wages paid shall be those current in each trade for competent workmen in the municipalities concerned.

28. The successful company shall start to carry out the terms of the franchise not later than 45 days from the date of its acceptance, unless special extension is given by the transportation committee.

Australian Crop Down

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter) —Wheat crops in central New South Wales may fall and greatly reduced yields may result in the southern half of the state unless substantial rainfall occurs very soon, it was reported today. Wheat crops in the northern half of New South Wales have already failed because of the drought.

Mother Burned Helping Save Sleeping Daughter

Twelve-year-old Corinne Moore, asleep in the bow cabin of the $10,000-yacht Jessie Ann, was saved from serious injury and possible death, by the daring action of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore, 1823 Beach Drive, and her brother, Richard, 17, when their craft took fire in Cowichan Bay Sunday morning at 9.

The Jessie Ann burned to the water's edge and sank in 300 feet of water off Separation Point. Mrs. Moore sustained superficial burns about the face and hands.

In addition to the Moore family, there were aboard the Jessie Ann at the time of the mishap, Claude Effinger of Vancouver, and his wife, Helen, social editor of the Vancouver Sun. They had been fishing from a small inboard motorboat and went aboard the Jessie Ann for a cup of coffee. Salty, the Moores' dog, was also aboard.

Moore was changing his rock gas supply when a valve came off and gas gushed into his face. He ordered other members of the family to throw the large side windows open to let the gas fumes out. There was a fireplace in the cabin which had a few glowing embers and soon a fire resulted, forcing the occupants of the cabin to retreat to the cockpit.

First thought of the Moores was for Corinne, Mr. Moore and Richard went around the blazing cabin to get the forward hatch off while Mrs. Moore dashed through the flames, with Salty by her side, to her daughter and both were helped through the hatch.

There were two 45-gallon tanks of gas on the craft and the occupants made haste to get away before it exploded. Mrs. Effinger went for the dinghy trailing at the rear, but she partly capsized it and went overboard. She spent a while in the water holding onto the side of the boat. The remainder got into the Effinger boat, shoved off and picked up Mrs. Effinger. The sight of the flaming boat attracted about 75 other yachts and smaller boats to the scene and the many offers of help drew words of praise from the Moores today.

Mrs. Moore was treated for her burns by Dr. W. A. Trenholme aboard Hart Henderson's boat.

Half an hour after the fire started the Jessie Ann sank.

Mrs. Moore said she managed to get her own and her daughter's watch before vacating the ship. Otherwise, everything was lost. When the fire began the Moores were fishing with three rods. Besides these they lost two more, about 40 spoons, an expensive camera and other things.

The Jessie Ann was 35 feet long and had a 95-horsepower motor.

Unfit For Trial

COCHRANE, Ont. (CP) — An Ontario Supreme Court jury ruled today that Marcel Desserres is mentally unfit to stand trial on a charge of murder in the gun slaying of 48-year-old John Dubinski in a bank hold-up near Timmins last November. The jury's decision brought a sudden end to the retrial of the 23-year-old Schumacher, Ont., gold miner on the charge. Desserres was convicted at the spring assizes, but the Ontario Court of Appeal ordered a retrial.

SUNDAY'S VOTE IN FRANCE

FRANCE APPROVED HER NEW CONstitution for the Fourth Republic on Sunday by a trifle more than a million votes. Not even its most ardent supporters will acclaim the result a victory. The verdict takes on a less palatable flavor when considered in conjunction with the fact that no fewer than one-third of the electorate failed to cast a ballot. Most of these were probably members of the Popular Republican Movement (M.R.P.) who backed the document in its preparatory stages, but whose loyalty to General de Gaulle, who stoutly opposed it, may have induced them to abstain from voting.

The constitution now approved is the second to be projected since France voted for a Fourth Republic last October. The first was defeated in May because objection to it centred on its proposal for a single legislative body with a virtual figurehead for President. The new charter provides for a second chamber, the Council of the Republic—a kind of "chamber of reflection" which could delay legislation but not, in the long run, veto it. Under its provisions, moreover, the powers of the President are somewhat enlarged. And although this second draft is less obnoxious to General de Gaulle than the first, his opposition to its principal features is based on his belief that the popularly-elected assembly would lead to "anarchy or dictatorship" because it would still be "omnipotent," with a "window-dressing" President. This attitude supports the argument that he desires an executive strong enough to control and dissolve Parliament, with veto power over legislation, and a cabinet responsible to him. Notwithstanding his denial of personal ambition, however, his critics may accuse him of seeking to build up the strength of the Presidency before he trims his sails for a race to win that dominating post.

It would now seem to be fairly clear that General de Gaulle has assumed the leadership of the French Right. But the new constitution is the product of the M.R.P.—formerly his solid backer—the Communists and the Socialists. The question thus posed is how much support he can expect from the Popular Republicans in the present Assembly. In other words, though this party urged the people to ratify the second draft, it would be wrong to suggest its followers are satisfied with it. They nevertheless contend that it represents the optimum under which a continuation of coalition government is feasible and practical.

As the political wiseacres speculate on the effect of Sunday's verdict, therefore, the outside world is left to reflect upon the possibility of a break between General de Gaulle and the M.R.P. So long as he remained head of the provisional government he was able, of course, to count on the support of this party. However, when he resigned because he was dissatisfied with the first draft, the Popular Republicans sought to delay action in the hope that public sentiment might force the recall of de Gaulle on his own terms. But the Communists and the Socialists threw their support to a coalition with the M.R.P. It was this arrangement which produced the Gouin and then the present government presided over by Popular Republican Bidault.

THEY CAN WORK TOGETHER

ANOTHER ILLUSTRATION OF THE manner in which government and private enterprise can find it a comparatively simple matter to work together in the public interest is reflected by the proposal of the British Columbia Power Commission to extend its holdings in the province through the acquisition of part of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company's properties—specifically, those in the Kamloops, Parksville-Qualicum, and the Alberni areas.

In accordance with its general scheme, of course, it was obvious that the provincial government intended to proceed with expansion in the power production field on the northern portion of Vancouver Island by harnessing Elk Falls at Campbell River. And the demands from the centre of the Dry Belt—as the important hub of which the Kamloops region is playing an ever-increasing economic role—supplied all the incentive the government required to go ahead with its plans for this section of the Interior.

Since the B.C. Electric holdings in such districts did not fit, geographically, into the company's own distribution system—either in the southern end of the island or on the lower mainland—it was a foregone conclusion that expropriation proceedings would be necessary in order that the government's power policy could be carried out on the lines laid down by Premier Hart. And the views of the people of the province are in harmony with those of the government in this important phase of public policy. In all the briefs submitted to the Postwar Rehabilitation Council on its province-wide tour of investigation in 1942 emphasis was laid on the need for rural electrification and all the term con-notes. In other words, these submissions were correctly interpreted as popular instructions on procedure; and the result of the election a year ago was a practical endorsement of Coalition policy.

In the arrangement reached between the government and the company in respect to those areas to which we have referred, therefore, considerable gratification will be found in the fact that the B.C.E.R., in the words of its able chief executive, Mr. A. E. Grauer, "agreed to raise no obstacles to the commission's expropriation proceedings." Here is an earnest of the private utility concern's willingness to subordinate a natural desire to guard what it obviously has had a right to consider its special preserve to popular demand—in itself a highly-commendable example of practical co-operation.

Not even Mr. Hart himself is predicting miracles for the policy on which he has set so much store—a policy which conforms to the will of the people. Certainly, the proof of the pudding will be in the eating thereof. But the understanding just announced between the government and the B.C.E.R. should provide an efficient vehicle for the administration of a business with which the future economy of the province is so intimately concerned.

IMPORTANT STEP

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE MOSLEM League's decision to enter the interim government of India will be apparent to all students of the affairs of that country. Through participation in the administrative agency, the Mohammedans will at least give representation to their 90,000,000 minority in the vital task of charting the sub-continent's future course in world affairs, either within or outside the British Commonwealth. The decision removes a condition which threatened to stultify the well-meaning and well-planned efforts of the British authorities to place the shaping of their own destinies in the hands of the people of India themselves.

The action does not necessarily spell the end of difficulties arising from different creeds. Nor does it indicate smooth sailing in negotiations between the dominant Hindu and Moslem parties on the vital tasks ahead. But it does manifest a willingness on the part of the two major sections of the nation to accept responsibilities which are properly theirs, and it shows an element of compromise indicative of possible co-operative progress toward a new status for the country. Its minimum implication is that thoughtful counsels have prevailed. Friends of India will hope that it spells the beginning of a realistic approach to the sane solution of problems yet to be tackled, that issues arising in the future will be determined on a basis of cool reason, not by hot-headed violence.

'DOUBLE TEN' TROUBLE

LAST THURSDAY, THE "DOUBLE Tenth," China observed the 35th anniversary of the birth of the Republic. There were firecrackers exploding in many towns and villages and rifle-fire crackling in the northern area where civil war persists. The dream of a bright new China which Dr. Sun Yat-sen sought to transform into reality was obscured by the smoke of battle, was but dimly seen, if seen at all, by the glazed eyes of the starving, was hidden behind the mounting piles of inflated currency that threatened to blanket the land like a stifling snowfall.

This was Double Ten Day in China, a time for expression of hope in the great adventure in democracy started 36 years earlier. In actuality the "Double, double, toil and trouble" of Macbeth's witches stirring their evil brew, was more applicable than the fine dream for which the day stood.

There was lip-service to the ideal in the announcement of plans to call the long-delayed National Assembly on November 12, in the statement that following adoption of a constitution by the assembly a constitutional government would be formed and the reins of the country, which, for 20 years have been in the hands of the Kuomintang would be returned to the people, with the Kuomintang joining the ranks of other political parties on an equal footing. As a member of a democratic government, the latter would work for a peaceful and united China. The prospect, as described is pleasing—provided the outside observer can shut his eyes to the actualities of civil strife, to the reported sabotage of reactionaries within the Kuomintang and to the irreconcilability of divergent factions.

It must be remembered that the first 35 years of the Republic are but as a breath in the long history of China. The difficulty of stirring the inertia of her untold millions is fully understood. And the hopeful appreciation by growing numbers of a purpose beyond that of collecting this day's bowl of rice will be seen as some advance. In China, as elsewhere, a gradual progress toward democratic government is apparent. But there is also the chilling recognition that gradualism may be too slow a process to save that country and the world from the effects that could result from its internecine strife. It is a point which must occur to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and the forces by which he, willingly or unwillingly, is influenced. As he directs his course to the avowed intent of bringing liberal constitutional government to a unified and peaceful China, it is to be hoped the Generalissimo's efforts will convince dissident factions of the sincerity of the government, and that ample proof will be furnished of that sincerity.

In its present state the turmoil in China is primarily that country's concern. But few can be blind to the difficulties of holding the issue within even such broad limits as are furnished by the vast territory and immense population of the Republic.

Symphony Of Color

By E. C. REID

POETS HAVE SEEN in autumn "the season of mists and mellow fruitfulness, close bosom-friend of the maturing sun." As nature unfolds her galaxy of the fall, it is as if a great wave of colors had washed over the earth, painting it in inspiring hues. This symphony of colors has been ours long before Beethoven had given his immortal Pastoral Symphony to a music-loving and grateful world.

To many there is a strong similarity of emotion created by beautiful music and that engendered by the harmonious blending of visual tones. What matters then if souls are elevated on wings of song, or flagging spirits are revitalized by the wonder, glory and scintillating beauty of the autumn tints? Come then, for a moment or two, leave the beaten track, the work-a-day world and seek the solace of woodland trails to absorb this symphony of color.

THE ARBORETUM at the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanichton has been favored by man with a generous collection of some of the finest of all ornamental trees and shrubs from different parts of the world. As a result the nature lover is treated to a variety of rich autumn shades seldom seen elsewhere. Nestling as it does against the luxurious fir-clad slopes of Mount Newton with a commanding view of the sea and the distant sun-clad mountains, it is blest by nature with a setting of unrivalled beauty. It is small wonder then that travelers who have seen the best that the world has to offer, are filled with admiration at the panorama of autumn's triumph spread before their eyes.

As no two people will be in complete accord when judging a piece of music, so it is difficult to say which tree or shrub, or color combination is the most pleasing in the arboretum at Saanichton. Among the reds, the liquidambar is unforgetably striking with its intense scarlet leaves shimmering in a faint autumn breeze as it reaches in a graceful blaze of glory to the sky. Some of the oaks, like the scarlet and shingle oak, to mention but two, likewise lend ruddy tones to the symphony of color.

TRAVELERS FROM the Orient will be glad to welcome the ginnalian maple to a Canadian collection and will rejoice in the exquisite beauty it imparts to the scene. Among other trees and shrubs of bronze hue, some of the most striking perhaps are certain of the prunus genus, like the Japanese flowering cherries and plums, many of the evonymus species (the spindle tree), forsythia and berberis. Some of the pyrus genus (pears) like P. longipes, lend a stately, pendulous grace with their red-green leaves and russet fruits. But perhaps the best representative of this color scheme is our own native dogwood, cornus nuttallii, which brightens many of our coastal hillsides at this season.

Only an artist's brush can catch the glory in the autumn symphony of color; mere words are inadequate when describing those trees that bring a touch of yellow to the scene. To see a lombardy poplar standing straight and tall like a golden shaft of light against a setting sun leaves one inarticulate. Maples from the Balkans, Norway, Persia and other lands fill the autumn skies with living gold. Here and there you see a ginkgo tree, an elm, mulberry, linden, an ash or birch, a tulip tree, a plane or perhaps a Tree of Heaven reaching its yellowing arms to the sky and you instinctively murmur "Jubilate Deo," it is good.

AS ONE NOTE in music has no melody, needing a sequence of tones to create a harmony, so it is with our autumn colors. More than one tone or hue must be visible at the same time to inspire an appreciation of relation of sequence. At Saanichton this is achieved through the presence of a wide variety of species and by the natural green background of native firs and cedars, which adds greatly to the harmony. As cymbals accentuate a musical tone, so perhaps the same result is achieved in an arboretum by the judicious arrangement of evergreen trees. A few of many that do well under Saanichton conditions, are the true cedars, atlas, deodar and tree of Lebanon, the pines both native and introduced species like the monterey, coulteri and the sabiniana; the native Douglas and balsam firs, the California redwoods, Lawson cypresses and the eucalyptus all add their beauty to the Saanichton symphony.

TOO SOON these glories pass. The tones are fading; evening is closing down in the west. Against a background of green, the sun dances from leaf to leaf on a catalpa all but stripped of its golden glory. The autumn symphony, alas, is soon to cease, or as E. A. Robinson expresses it:

"A thousand golden sheaves were lying there,
Shining and still, but not for long to stay.
As if a thousand girls with golden hair,
Might rise from where they slept and go away."

Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton, B.C., October, 1946.

Quoting

"For their own safety the wage earners of the United States should exercise self-discipline and good judgment, and refrain from taking ill-considered and unwise action pending action by Congress. Labor will then be in a position to demand co-operation for holding prices, and especially rent levels. Wage earners can best stabilize their wage dollars by helping to increase volume of production which can wipe out scarcities and the danger of run-away inflation . . ."—William Green, President American Federation of Labor.

1,216 Students At Night School

Enrollment at the night school classes has climbed to 1,216 highest in the history of the school, George Anstey, director, announced today. The class in public speaking has yet to enroll, he said, and will hold its first session Tuesday. Reason for the delay has been the absence from the city of Albert Sullivan, instructor. Mr. Anstey anticipated an enrollment of approximately 30 at this class.

Home-cooking classes at Mount View, Esquimalt and Oak Bay have all been dropped because of lack of enrollment, Mr. Anstey said, and the few who had enrolled for these classes are being asked to attend the class at Victoria High School, which is proving popular. Only six enrolled at Mount View, four at Esquimalt and three at Oak Bay, he said.

Other classes which have been closed this year are citizenship, English for new Canadians and personal efficiency.

Leathercraft and dressmaking have proved the two most popular classes, but enrollment in all others is well above normal, he reported.

Football, Not War, Chief Topic Of Conversation In Soviet Union

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Returning to Russia after five months' absence, one is immediately struck by the startling difference in what people are talking about abroad and what they're discussing here.

In the United States it was the Third Great War, fear of it and a definite pessimism about the prospects of peace.

In Britain it was war and fear of war, but to somwhat less extent than in the United States.

In Sweden and Finland, while war was not the uppermost topic for talk, it was still high on the list of subjects for conversation.

In Russia there is little or no talk about war, certainly no expressed fear of it. The question of burning interest at the moment is football.

The Russians I've talked to—and they include officials—are startled at these reports from abroad.

Truthfully and factually one must agree with his Russian friends—not only is there no talk about war—there is great talk about peace, about gigantic plans for the future, about better living conditions, about new jobs, about new clothes, apartments and furniture and prospects of getting them—but above all about football.

The Soviet Union's soccer football teams are in the midst of their annual play for the football cup of the U.S.S.R.

Exploring beyond, one comes to these conclusions:

There are no signs of war jitters here.

There is every indication of peace and long-term plans for peace.

Russia is getting back on her feet after a terrible war—but slowly, for she was grievously hurt.

THEORY OF GANGING-UP

There is more conviction that there exists an organized effort to gang up by vote and declaration against the U.S.S.R.

There is more confidence than I have ever seen before in Russia by Russians—confidence in the government and the men at its head.

In winding up these first impressions of Russia after coming back to the place where I have lived for the last five years, my outstanding conclusions are:

Abroad talk is about war; here it is about peace.

The U.S.S.R. is still one of the hottest subjects of conversation in the world—and it is going to continue to be for a long, long time.

Denmark Considerate Of 'Senior Citizens'

Old age pensioners from all parts of Greater Victoria, meeting in the schoolroom of the First Baptist Church heard Mrs. Tyrell Godman give an account of "Homes for the Aged" in Denmark and other Scandinavian countries.

Mrs. Godman described how, while driving through Copenhagen, the driver of her bus had pointed out a beautiful building standing in its own grounds and overlooking the water. "That," he said, "is one of the homes for our senior citizens and it means a great deal to us."

The home was organized for the express purpose of making the older citizens happy and comfortable. Those who could afford to pay did so; those with no means were cared for just the same and no resident of the home had any knowledge of the financial standing of another.

No difference was made in the treatment of those with independent means and those on pension. The home was staffed with doctors and nurses and the food supervised by a qualified dietitian who specialized in the correct type of food for older people. These homes were provided in all towns of any size throughout the country and the citizens looked upon it as a privilege to provide entertainment in the way of concerts and drives. Just recently an adequate pension had been provided so that those who wished to live in "their own homes could do so."

Pilot Takes Blame For Plane Crash

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Federal investigators had for study today a 40-page deposition in which the pilot of the United Air Lines' plane which crashed here with 47 persons aboard last week, killing two persons, asserted, "I truthfully feel that this whole thing is my fault."

The deposition, taken from Capt. L. H. Smith of San Francisco, one of 44 persons hospitalized after the ship had crashed last Tuesday, was entered as evidence at a public hearing here today by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Heath To Die Wednesday

LONDON (CP) — Neville George Heath has lost his thin hope of escaping a hangman's rope for the sadistic slaying of movie extra Margery Gardner. Home Secretary Ede advised prison authorities he "would not be justified in recommending any interference" with the execution of Heath, set for Wednesday.

Stole Dog To Eat

BERLIN (AP)—The Observer, United States military government weekly, today reported that a German locksmith awaiting trial has admitted stealing a dog and killing it "to get meat for my five-year-old child."

Meat Decontrol Causes Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today put on one of the sharpest and fastest rallies of the month following the United States meat decontrol ruling.

Buying orders swept into all departments at the beginning of the session and, for a lengthy interval after the opening, the ticker tape was two minutes behind actual floor transactions.

Top gains of one to four points—there were a few jumps of around 12 by "thin" issues—failed to hold in most cases although substantial advances were widespread near the close. Dealings tapered as profits were cashed.

Hiram Walker shot up 6 points leading strong Canadian issues at midday. Both Distillers Seagram and McIntyre advanced 1 point, Canadian Pacific ⅞ and Dome Mines ⅝. On the curb, Giant Yellowknife, long a laggard, gained ⅛ as did Lake Shore.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Early advances of more than 5 cents in rye futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today were erased by losses on profit-taking and light support. Advances in Chicago grain had contributed to the early increases. Trading was moderately active.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices spurted quickly in early trading today on the meat price decontrol news but later reacted to show losses in many cases.

Feed grains—corn and oats—reacted sharply after bounding 3 to almost 4 cents a bushel.

Wheat held up better than other grains after climbing as much as 4 cents to $2.12½ for the January contract, the highest wheat futures price since 1920.

Newsprint Continues To Fatten

TORONTO (CP) — Although the volume of trading was comparatively light prices were higher today. The action turned dull in the late period and some of the gains were trimmed. Industrial and gold stocks posted the widest gains.

Newsprint stocks continued to fatten. St. Lawrence Corporation preferred added 4 points and point gains were held by Abitibi, the Great Lakes issues, Powell River and St. Lawrence common.

McIntyre stood out in the gold share list with an advance of four points.

Western oils were dull apart from an advance on fair volume for Calgary and Edmonton.

Victoria Library Receives Typescript

At a recent meeting of the Victoria Public Library Board E. F. Meade presented the typescript of his recent novel "Remember Me" to the library.

In the letter that accompanied the gift Mr. Meade said, "The library has given me so much of my education that I am especially and sentimentally attached to it. I almost lived in it, back in the dark thirties when time was about all one possessed. If you had provided beds in the rotunda I am sure you would have had me for a star boarder. Anyway, I have so much to thank the library for that I'll take this opportunity to do it."

The staff is arranging a special display of the typescript, maps, and copies of The Maple Leaf in the library.

The board reported the appointment of Miss Pauline Abbot as clerical assistant and Misses Margaret Angus and Marguerite Shepherd as student apprentices.

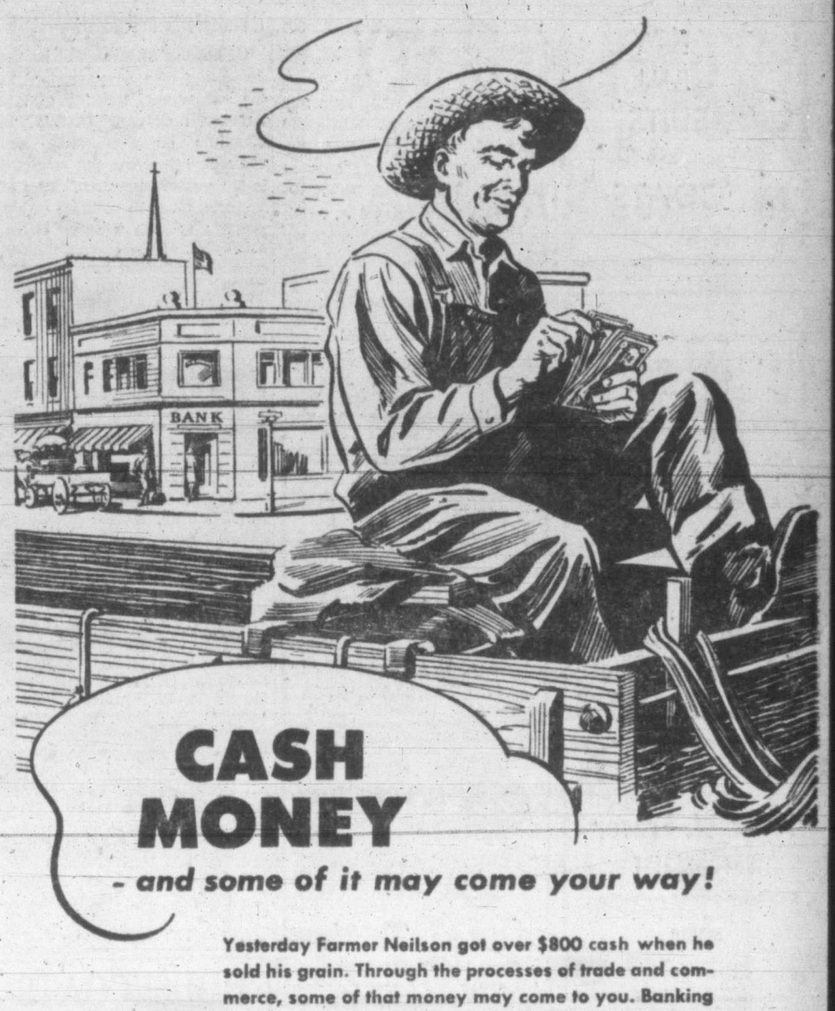
The Librarian reported the circulation to and from the schools of Oak Bay, Saanich, and Esquimalt for the school year ending in June last was greater than the previous year, while that of the Victoria city schools was lower. Eighty-four classroom libraries were sent to the schools of Greater Victoria.

Mrs. D. J. Giffin Dies

Mrs. D. J. Giffin, mother of Mrs. J. P. Hicks of Victoria, and for many years a resident of this city, well-known in church and musical circles, died Oct. 11, at her home, 2554 Vine Street, Vancouver, at the age of 84.

She is survived by two sons, Leslie D. Giffin of Port Alberni, and William H. Giffin, Vancouver; and two daughters, Mrs. J. P. Hicks and Miss Lillian Hope Giffin, Vancouver.

Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, has written Mayor Percy George asking him to convey to all volunteer workers who aided in the distribution of ration books his thanks for "a job well done."



CASH MONEY
- and some of it may come your way!

Yesterday Farmer Neilson got over $800 cash when he sold his grain. Through the processes of trade and commerce, some of that money may come to you. Banking service enabled him to obtain his money quickly.

The farmer doesn't have to wait for his money until his grain reaches the consumer . . . this is important to you, no matter where you live or what your work.

Farmer Nielson, and thousands like him, spend money for household and farm equipment, food, clothes, radios, paint and a hundred other things. This helps keep people busy all over the Dominion.

Your bank advances credit also to help farmers plant, cultivate and harvest crops of all kinds, to buy and raise livestock. Banking service is something like the good oil in fine machinery, you never notice it. But it is a prime factor in your prosperity . . . in the Canadian way of life.

Presents Standard In Son's Memory

Of solemn interest will be the dedication of a new standard at the semi-annual meeting of B.C. Provincial Chapter I.O.D.E., in Nanaimo on Wednesday and Thursday. The fine silk standard is the gift of Mrs. J. L. Gates of Victoria, given in memory of her son, Capt. John Lothian Gates, a member of Victoria's Canadian Scottish Regiment and later the South Saskatchewan Regiment, who paid the supreme sacrifice at Caen during severe fighting after D-Day.

The present flag, which will be preserved by the chapter, was presented many years ago by Mrs. Mary Croft, also of Victoria, first regent of Camosun Chapter, the oldest I.O.D.E. chapter in the city.

Attending the Nanaimo meetings from Victoria will be Mrs. P. E. Corby, second provincial vice-president, Mesdames J. L. Gates, W. Ellis, C. L. Bishop, R. Spillsbury, F. E. Dowdall and A. H. C. Phipps, all members of the provincial executive.

Among other delegates from the city will be Mesdames A. Mainprize, G. Mellow, J. Baker, R. Shanks, A. D. Whittier, D. W. Carter, A. W. Bradley, H. Hanbury, G. B. Elliott, R. Renfrew, T. Lumsden, Molson Smith, G. A. Vantreight, D. F. C. McArthur, H. Goodfellow, May, Brain, W. R. Roskellet, M. Fyfe, C. R. Robb, A. Warren Smith, Akenhead, S. R. Richardson, F. D. McKechnie, R. McRae, J. R. Campbell, J. W. Van Norman, W. Milne, Edwards, C. W. McNeill, G. Phillips, J. Meiss, G. E. Warner, R. T. Murphy, Bell, Watts and C. D. Dutot.

To Spend Winter In East

Miss Helen Baird, prominent young Victoria socialite, leaves Wednesday afternoon to spend the winter months in Ottawa, Montreal and New York. En route she will visit Mrs. Ian Butters, the former Miss Catherine Johnson of this city, at Port Arthur.

Mr. Allen English, who spent Thanksgiving week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. K. English, 133 Moss Street, returned today to Vancouver where he is a student at the University of B.C. Mr. English is municipal inspector of schools.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Leigh have returned to their home, 3200 Beach Drive, the Uplands, after spending the past week at up-island points.

Lady Swettenham was an honored guest Monday in Vancouver at a Thanksgiving dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aivazoff.

Mrs. Edwin Galliher of Montreal will arrive in the city Wednesday and will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Nash, 3515 Upper Terrace Road.

Mesdames A. M. Perry, T. D. Roberts, C. F. Lawrence, C. Evans and D. Pitt left today to attend the executive meeting of the King's Daughters, in Vancouver.

Mrs. A. Carmichael, provincial president of the Council of Women; Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. B. Parsons left today to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial Council of Women in Chilliwack.

In honor of her daughter, the Hon. Mrs. Carol Fellows and her granddaughter, Mrs. Geoffrey Homer, an after-five party was given Saturday by Mrs. Christopher Cator at her home on Rockland Avenue. Miss Innis Bodwell assisted her mother in receiving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pangman entertained a few friends at their Transit Road home this afternoon, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Vanstone of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCririck of Vancouver. Mr. Vanstone is general manager of the Bank of Toronto.

Miss Diana DesBrisay will return today to Vancouver where she attends University of B.C., after being the guest of Miss Doreen Olson, Somas Drive during the week-end. She was the honor guest when Miss Olson entertained at an informal party Sunday evening.

Miss Shirley Adelaide-Marie Gunn, who has been spending the Thanksgiving week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Gunn, 1251 Victoria Avenue, will return tonight to Vancouver where she is taking her third year in science and arts at the University of B.C. Miss Gunn is well known in musical circles here and in Vancouver.

Afternoon Rites For Joan Horrocks

Miss Joan Doreen Horrocks, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Horrocks, Croydon, Que., exchanged marriage vows with William Meredith Blackey, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Blackey, 3700 Craigmillar Road, in a quiet afternoon ceremony performed by Dr. A. E. Whitehouse at Metropolitan United Church, Oct. 12.

Given in marriage by Norman Bambrough, the bride wore a smart grey crepe afternoon dress featuring a frilled peplum and V-neckline, a blue feathered hat with matching long gloves and a corsage bouquet of white carnations and blue delphiniums.

The groom's sister, Miss Zelda Blackey, attended the bride in a two-piece dressmaker suit of turquoise gabardine, brown hat with sequin trim, matching accessories and corsage bouquet of pink roses and swansonia. The groom chose as best man, Bob Frayne.

A reception followed at the Blackey residence where Mrs. Blackey assisted the couple in receiving their guests. James Tully of Vancouver proposed the toast to the bride.

On leaving for their honeymoon up-island, the bride changed to a Houndstooth dressmaker suit with brown accessories and corsage bouquet of roses. She wore a lapel pin, the gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackey will make their home in Victoria.

And Now We Are Three!

We're still young in this furniture biz,
As you'll no doubt agree,
But in four short years
We've grown from one to three!

The above three babies are symbolic
And much handsomer than us,
(Tho we like to think we're still in there,
And worth a lot of fuss).

On the left we have Maurice,
Modest writer of corny verse,
Our buyers read it every day
To prove it can't get worse.

(Please refer to the classified section, under "Furniture.")

The centre lad, of course, is Bruce,
So very blonde and fair,
He's really pretty and of use
In decorating a chair.

The third, a peek-a-booing
(He's shy and awfully new),
Is Barley, our latest addition,
Who sure gets orders in a stew.

So now we're Humbers three,
Around the corner, not a mile,
Where they say that Humber brothers
Give furniture away with a smile.

LEATHERY EGGS ARE LAID BY SPINY ANTEATER

One of the strangest animals in the world is the echidna, or spiny anteater. This animal lives in Australia, also on the nearby islands of Tasmania and New Guinea.

The echidna is small, being only about 12 inches long. Its mouth is without teeth, but it has a beak like that of a waterfowl. It has spines as sharp as those of a porcupine. A long, sticky tongue—like that of an anteater—comes out of the beak from time to time.

The purpose of the tongue is to catch up ants and other insects which the echidna likes for food. It eats young ants, or grubs, more often than full-grown ants.

Echidnas are furry animals, and have both long and short fur over their bodies, along with their sharp quills. They are classed as mammals, but strangely enough they lay eggs. The birdlike habit of laying eggs is followed by only a few kinds of furry animals, and all of these live in or near Australia.

The eggs of echidnas are about the same size as those of sparrows, and are laid only one or two at a time. They have a leathery covering, very much like the eggs of reptiles.

The mother echidna places her egg, or eggs, in a pouch which is on the same order as that of a kangaroo. After hatching from the eggs, the young are kept in the pouch for several weeks. When they leave the pouch, they are only about four inches long.

It is possible to tame echidnas, and this has been done now and then. Mr. W. Sayville-Kent tamed several of them while he was living in Tasmania. The animals proved to be shy at first, and would dig holes in the ground so they could hide themselves.

Later they became real pets, and would follow their owner as he walked around the garden. They seemed to like it when they were picked up and carried from place to place.

Those pet echidnas were fed with milk-soaked bread, also with porridge. Sometimes they were allowed to roam about among anthills. With their strong claws, they would dig into the homes of the ants, and then would gobble up as many of the grubs as they could find.

The DOCTOR Says:

CLOSING SCHOOLS DOESN'T CHECK EPIDEMICS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

The practice of closing schools during epidemics is a popular public expression of our desire to protect our children from disease, but there is no evidence that any epidemic has ever been checked by the closing of schools.

Closing or deferring the opening of city schools is of less value than is almost any other measure in controlling contagious diseases.

City schoolchildren as a rule come from the same district in which the epidemic is raging. There is intimate contact between these children in their play and in the neighborhood shopping district, and nothing is gained by keeping them away from one another in a school building.

SCHOOLS DETECT DISEASE

The chief advantage of leaving schools open during an epidemic is the fact that sick children thus may be granted medical attention more quickly.

Even though the school may not enjoy the services of a school nurse or a school physician, the teachers usually can detect illness in any child. A teacher checks daily on the progress of each child in her room, and she may be more efficient in detecting changes than is someone closer to the child.

Most infectious diseases are contagious during the latter part of the incubation period, just before the symptoms develop. The failure of quarantine to be completely effective even when sick children are sent home at once results from our inability to detect carriers and to recognize those who are coming down with the infection.

RURAL PROBLEM VARIES

Country children, who come from different parts of the district and may see little of one another outside of school, post a different problem, the problem of new exposures.

Some authorities believe that bringing children who lead a secluded life together at school increases the chances for exposure of susceptibles. The same rule should apply, at the beginning of a school year, to boarding schools attended by young children from different sections of the country.

If country or boarding schools are opened, parents should not be required to send their children unless they wish to.

To help control the spread of disease in schools, society should provide a healthful environment for the children. Adequate washroom and toilet facilities, individual drinking fountains, a clean building, and a good medical and nursing service are essential.

Abbott Will Arrive In Victoria Oct. 29

Hon. Douglas Charles Abbott, Canada's Minister of National Defence for Army and for Air, will arrive in Victoria, Oct. 29, R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., was advised today.

Mr. Mayhew said that Mr. Abbott while here would address a public meeting, yet to be arranged.

The minister will travel to Victoria aboard an R.C.N. vessel.

On Oct. 31 he will fly to Nanaimo.

A possible expansion of the city fire department to handle fire protection for the northern section of the city was hinted today by Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the fire wardens. The old Duchess Street fire hall has been removed from the sale list and is now being used for storage pending a ruling on its final use.

Playgrounds Sought By Oaklands P.-T.A.

Setting aside of playgrounds at Hillside Avenue and Higgins Street and at Shakespeare and Ryan Streets, was asked today in a letter to the City Council by Oaklands Parent-Teachers' Association.

The association asked that the playgrounds be set aside by by-law.

A Victoria Town Planning Commission recommendation adopted by the City Council April 1, however, favored the procedure of reserving playgrounds but not dedicating them permanently before the preparation of an overall plan for the city. This plan is now being completed.

The parks and boulevards committee already had recommended setting aside the undeveloped portion of Shakespeare Street between Ryan Street and King's Road, and the lots on Shakespeare Street in the same block, as a park.

RICH FOOD TAKES A TOLL

As men and women approach middle-age, they usually eat too much rich, fatty food and exercise too little. They lose the spring in their step and often feel "so tired" they can't be bothered keeping up with the crowd. This is a danger period — the time when "middle-age" spread sets in.

Many have met this problem by taking Bile Beans—a leading British remedy for keeping fit and trim. Purely vegetable Bile Beans stimulate the liver and help relieve a system overloaded with toxic waste. The largest-selling liver pills in Great Britain, Bile Beans are called "The Remedy that Wakes up Nature". To keep fit and trim, a good rule to remember is "Bile Beans at Bedtime." Every new Wage Earner

. . . should answer these questions:

How MANY 'earning years' are you looking forward to? Right now you take pleasure and pride in that job of yours! But later in life, retirement is going to seem pretty attractive too. Years slip by quickly. You should, accordingly, SAVE through Mutual Life of Canada insurance which will provide for your retirement and protect your dependents . . .

Does it matter WHICH life insurance company you choose? Yes! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of our policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life of Canada, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

BRITISH COLUMBIA MOTORISTS DEMAND EXTRA PROTECTION OF SHELL X-100 MOTOR OIL

To make your trip more fun, Shell Touring Service provides a complete guide showing the best routes, points of interest and places to stay. Your Shell dealer can tell you all about it . . . ask him!

Why Today's Extreme Conditions Call for Extra Protection of "X" Safety Factors!

The happy, carefree week-end beckons—"come out and see the country again!" But that longer, faster trip you're planning offers special dangers to the old motor in your car—serious damage that can occur if ordinary oils fail to give lasting, efficient protection.

So motorists here—as in other sections—are changing to Shell X-100 . . . the more efficient lubricant developed by Shell Research that protects motors with scientifically developed "X" safety factors.

Created by Shell Research specifically to meet extreme driving conditions, Shell X-100 was developed in Shell's great laboratories out of the same tough base stock used to protect war planes . . . and it contains the "X" safety factors scientifically designed to give extra protection critically needed by worn motors.

Play safe with your motor—have your Shell dealer drain and refill today with this remarkable premium motor oil—Shell X-100! It costs a little more; but it's worth a lot more!

If you are one of the lucky few able to get a new car, you will be even more anxious to protect your motor's precision parts with the "X" safety factors of Shell X-100.

Police Publish Safety Booklet

As part of the city police department's campaign to educate the public on Victoria's traffic rules in an effort to decrease the accident rate, a 32-page booklet of rules and regulations has been printed which will be distributed throughout the schools and will be available to anyone calling at the police station.

Chief John A. McLellan points out in the preamble of the booklet that "intelligent observance of the law depends on understanding." He says that in the booklet the principal laws regulating traffic in the city are given in language that can be understood by everyone, and he asks: "Will you do your part by careful driving and walking?"

Each street on which parking is prohibited or regulated is noted and traffic signs and signals are explained. Details of speed limits and zones also are given as are every-day facts concerning licenses, necessary equipment for cars, and charges on which motorists can be summonsed.

There are sketches and drawings illustrating safe driving methods and special sections for the children on bicycle riding rules and other safety hints.

Approximately 5,000 of the booklets will be distributed in the schools by police lecturers who will address the students.

End Of Tourist Season Affects Job Vacancies In Victoria

With the tourist season at an end, job vacancies in Victoria dropped last week as the result of the laying off of extra help in restaurants, hotels and summer camps in Greater Victoria and at up-island points.

The change in the employment picture had taken place only in the past week, according to officials of the National Employment Service Office, who revealed that jobs available last week for men only numbered 617 as compared with 917 in the previous week.

The decrease in jobs in Victoria is attributed to many factors, one of the main ones being the end of the tourist season which left hundreds of workers, both men and women, without jobs. Moreover, most of the jobs which are available at local shipyards last week, are reported now filled.

A possible further decrease in jobs is anticipated with the end of the harvest season in the prairie provinces as hundreds of farm hands are expected to return to British Columbia in search of jobs.

However, jobs are still available in most of the basic trades, though there were indications that many applicants had not the required qualifications to fill the vacancies.

Mrs. J. E. Leonard, supervisor of the women's division, Employment Service, reported that although the demands for service help had not been as great as last week, there was a shortage of waitresses, kitchen help and chambermaids. She said there was still a shortage of stenographers.

The number of job vacancies for men are: Clerical, 35; sales, 32; service workers, 38; agricultural; logging, 43; construction, 120; heavy labor, 196; light labor, 69; skilled and semi-skilled workers, 81.

Jobs available for women are: Clerical, 29; sales, 17; domestic, 125; laundry and dry cleaning, 31; unskilled workers, 36.

Fire Prevention All Year Round

With Fire Prevention Week, nearing its close, Chief Joseph Law of the Saanich firefighters appealed to residents today to continue their vigilance against outbreak of fire.

"It is even more important in Saanich that extra care be taken at all times against fire," he said, explaining that the municipality's 55 square miles made the firemen's job particularly difficult under the present system.

He attributed most fires to carelessness of smokers, but stated also that hazards in the home were responsible for many unnecessary fires each year.

Poor housekeeping and faulty construction of chimneys, fireplaces and other equipment also was responsible for the approximate $8,000 fire loss in the municipality so far this year.

"Remember all year round the warnings and advice given during Fire Prevention Week," he said.

C.N.S.S. To Return 'Lady' Ships To West Indies Service

The sister ships Lady Nelson and Lady Rodney, only two of Canada's "Lady" liners to survive the war, will again ply the Canada-West Indies trade route on completing their sailings for the Department of National Defence, it was announced in Montreal today by R. C. Vaughan, C.M.G., chairman and president of Canadian National Steamships.

Both ships are presently engaged in repatriation service. The Lady Nelson will return to the C.N.S.S. this month, followed by the Lady Rodney in November. Reconversion will take about four months.

The three sister ships, Lady Drake, Lady Hawkins and Lady Somers were lost by enemy action.

Mr. Vaughan also indicated the Canadian Cruiser, first of three new diesel-driven vessels purchased by the C.N.S.S. from War Assets Corporation, will be received from the builders in time to embark passengers at Halifax in late November. The Canadian Challenger will be delivered during the latter part of November. Both vessels are scheduled for the West Indies trade.

Canadian Constructor, the third new ship, being built in Vancouver, is expected to sail from the mainland city late in November with passengers and cargo for West Indies ports. She will join the other vessels in the eastern group service.

Saanich Recreation Council Get-Together

Under the chairmanship of Reeve Lambrick of Saanich Municipality, a very successful social gathering of the Saanich Recreational Council was held at the Little Art Centre.

Reeve Lambrick tendered best wishes and pledged support of the municipal council for any further efforts of the recreational council. Greetings were also extended by W. H. Warren on behalf of city playgrounds and by Mrs. W. W. McGill of the Garden Library. Miss M. Hinds, of Wartime Housing, who spoke on the aims and values of co-ordinated community centres and pledged fullest support and co-operation of wartime housing. Mr. Gilbert offered greetings on behalf of the Oak Bay Community Centre. From Esquimalt, Mr. Floyd gave an account of the aim of recreation stressing that "we have playgrounds instead of penitentiaries, hobbies in place of hospitals and community comradeship instead of crime. Mrs. Beckwith, of the Oak Bay playgrounds, also extended greetings. Ray Grant, of the Department of Education, gave assurance that the department was fully aware of the splendid effort being carried on in all playgrounds and recreation. It was not easy to remain aloof or unacquainted in the frolic of the game so ably directed by Mrs. W. Blair, recreation convener of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation.

An enjoyable program featured a rhythm band from Strawberry Vale Playground, songs by Glen Atkinson of Craigflower and Folk Dancing by children of Tolmie and Playfair playgrounds.

An interesting movie displaying activities of most of the playgrounds this summer gave the audience a feeling of the value of the effort put into playgrounds this summer.

Mr. Batchelor of the Department of Education, who filmed part of the movie, remarked on the progress of playgrounds in Greater Victoria.

Dr. Henrietta Anderson, organizing director of the Recreational Council of Greater Victoria, conducted a discussion forum and stressed that recreation should serve much more than a physical need and is necessary at all seasons for all ages. The question was raised whether school auditoriums be used for recreation after school. It was pointed out that the chief difficulty was lengthy hours which would entail for janitor services and the difficulty in financing substitutes.

The matter of financing recreation led to a discussion on the part which the government should play. While it was felt that recreation should be under the sponsorship of both federal and provincial governments, still the success was highly dependent on the community effort and interest.

365 VICTORIES A YEAR . . .

"PEACE", they say, "has its victories as well as war". In textiles, these victories depend on the same things as in war; watchfulness, superior materials, teamwork.

The result is "quality". And quality wins victories every day of the year — victories over wear and tear, over sun and washtub.

Quality depends on everlasting supervision at every stage of production . . . and on laboratory tests of materials . . . and on rigid inspection of finished goods to detect the slightest flaw . . . and on teamwork between all departments. It is all these things combined which give you the quality which you rightly expect whenever you buy products of Dominion Textile mills.

"You mean I get paid in Coconuts!"..

BILL is not running a fever. He is merely trying to explain to the new mechanic that 35 cents out of each dollar in his pay envelope is put there by Canadian trade abroad.

"Those parts you are making go into all kinds of machines, from refrigerator pumps to marine engines," says Bill, "and the countries that buy them must sell us different things in return, or they would run out of dollars to pay for our work."

"Let's get this thing straight," says Bill's new friend. "You mean that 35 cents on each dollar I get comes from things like coconuts and bananas?"

"Yes . . . and from coffee and sweet potatoes, sugar and cotton . . . spices and tea."

"What a way to make a living! Why, 35 cents on the dollar is more than I pay for rent . . . what would happen if these foreign guys stopped buying my machine parts?"

"That's something that must never happen," said Bill thoughtfully. "That's why I'm so fussy about the quality of the parts we turn out. Ours must be so much better that foreign buyers will prefer Canadian products because they are dependable and made to high standards. That's the way we'll build our foreign trade."

"But we can sell the parts we make at home. Why bother with the coconut fellows?"

"That's the tricky part of it. We must make foreign markets for Canadian goods now . . . or we won't keep the production lines moving after the people here at home have bought all they need."

And this is where YOU come in, friend reader. At least 35 cents of every dollar you earn comes from Canada's foreign trade, too. So if you want to do well by your future—be patient when some of the goods you want are sold to other countries.

And remember, too, that everything you produce is a knock or a boost for Canadian goods in foreign markets . . . so put your heart into your job.

35 CENTS OF EVERY $1.00 YOU GET . . . COMES FROM CANADA'S TRADE ABROAD

* Everyone who buys or sells merchandise abroad makes jobs in Canada. That is why we have a Foreign Trade Service in the Department of Trade and Commerce. It maintains able trade commissioners in 29 countries, and an experienced export and import staff at head office, to collect the most up-to-date information on foreign markets and give practical help to every business that wishes to buy or sell in other countries.

21 Tentative Routes Set Out In Plans For Unified Transit System

Twenty-one routes for the unified transportation system of Greater Victoria were submitted with the specifications for ratification of the four municipalities this week by Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee.

The Victoria City Council considered and ratified them at today's meeting, noting the proviso contained in the specifications that "the routes finally determined may be altered, modified or abandoned by the company holding the franchise, with the consent of the transportation committee."

The transportation committee, Ald. Diggon explained, is also reserving the right to require the company to alter its routes in congested areas when such changes are in the interest of safety and public convenience.

The tentative routes proposed in the specifications are as follows:

1. Outer Wharf—From the city centre, via Government Street, Superior Street, St. Lawrence Street, Erie Street and Dallas Road to Pilot Street, looping via Niagara and Dock Street and return.

2. Beacon Hill—From the city centre, via Douglas Street, Belleville Street, Menzies Street and Niagara Street to Douglas Street, looping via Beacon Street and St. Andrew's Street and return.

3. South Fairfield—From the city, via Douglas Street, Humboldt Street, Rupert Street, Fairfield Road, Cook Street, May Street, Linden Avenue, Dallas Road, Moss Street, George Street, Bushby Street to Memorial Crescent, returning via May Street.

4. Gonzales—From the city, via Fort Street, Cook Street, Fairfield Road to St. Charles Street, alternate buses to proceed via St. Charles Street, Ross Street, Crescent Road to Quimper Street and return, and via Fairfield Road to Beach Drive, looping via Monterey Avenue and Lafayette Street and return.

5. Richardson—From the city via Douglas, Burdett, Collinson, McClure, Vancouver, Richardson, St. Charles, Despard, Richmond, Quamichan Streets, and Foul Bay Road, to Runnymere Avenue and return.

6. Shoal Bay—From the city via Pandora Avenue, Monterey Avenue, Brighton Avenue, Hampshire Road, Windsor Road, Victoria Avenue, Central Avenue, Monterey Avenue and Beach Drive to St. Patrick Street, returning via St. Patrick Street, Central Avenue, Newport Avenue, McNeill Avenue, St. Patrick Street and Brighton Avenue.

7. Oak Bay—From the city via Fort Street, Oak Bay Avenue, Newport Avenue, to Margate Street, looping via Margate Street, Beach Drive and Windsor Road, and return.

8. Willows—From the city via Pandora Avenue, Oak Bay Avenue, St. Ann Street, Bowker Avenue, Beach Drive, Estevan Avenue, Thompson Avenue, to Nottingham Road, returning via Nottingham Road, Burdick Avenue and Musgrave Street.

9. Uplands-Cadboro Bay—From the city via Fort Street and Cadboro Bay Road to Uplands Road, alternate buses to proceed via Uplands Road, Cotswold Road, Midland Road and Beach Drive to Rutland Road, returning via Rutland and Lansdowne Roads, and via Cadboro Bay Road to Maynard Road, with alternate loops via Hobbs Street, Arbutus Road, Finnerty Road and Sinclair Road, and Telegraph Road, Tudor Avenue and Seaview Road.

10. Mount Tolmie—From the city via Pandora Avenue, Fort Street, Foul Bay Road to Forrester and Richmond Road to Saanich boundary and return.

11. Haultain—From the city via Yates Street, Fernwood Road, Haultain Street, and Shelbourne Street to Myrtle Avenue, looping via Myrtle Avenue, Scott Street, Hillside Avenue, and return.

12. Hillside—From the city via Douglas Street and Hillside Avenue to Shakespeare Street, looping via Edgeware Road, Doncaster Road and return.

13. Maplewood—From the city via Yates Street and Cook Street to Oakmount Avenue, looping via Oakmount Avenue and Maplewood Avenue and return.

14. Quadra-Lake Hill — From the city via Yates Street and Quadra Avenue to the Saanich boundary.

15. Douglas—From the city via Government Streets to the Saanich boundary.

16. Burnside—From the city via Douglas Street and Burnside Road to the Saanich boundary.

17. Gorge Road—From the city via Douglas Street and Gorge Road to the Saanich boundary.

All routes extending beyond boundary into Saanich to be developed by negotiation between successful tenderer in the three municipalities and the operator holding the Saanich franchise.

18. Victoria West—From the city via Johnson Street, Catherine Street, Langford Street, Russell Street and Craigflower Road to Tillicum Road, alternate buses to proceed via Craigflower Road to Forshaw Road and return, and via Tillicum Road to Gorge Bridge and return.

19. Colville—From the city via Johnson Street, Esquimalt Road, Head Street, Lampson Street and Colville Road to Admirals Road and return. Some trips daily via Admirals Road to Esquimalt boundary and return, and via Admirals Road to Esquimalt Road, looping via Comerford and Lyall Streets to Admirals Road and return.

20. Esquimalt—From the city via Douglas Street, Bay Street to Esquimalt Road to the Dockyard and return.

21. Munro Street—From the city via Johnson Street, Esquimalt Road, Head Street, Gore Street, Lyall Street, Lampson Street and Munro Street to Armit Street, returning via Fraser Street, Lyall Street, Admirals Road and Esquimalt Road.

Downtown routings are subject to negotiation with the transportation committee and police departments.

When downtown routings are established and routes into Saanich are negotiated with the operator holding Saanich franchise, many of the above lines should be joined together to give through-town routings.

Vancouver Thieves Got Holiday Harvest

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than $2,600 was stolen in robberies reported here over the Thanksgiving week-end.

The heaviest loss was reported by G. F. Grogan, San Francisco, who told police that a radio and clothing, valued at $1,000, were stolen when his automobile was ransacked while parked in the west end.

Sugar and butter coupons and cigarettes and $100 cash were stolen when thieves forced entry into the store and living-quarters of H. Graham in the South Cambie district.

Offiees of the Amalgamated Building Workers of Canada were entered Saturday and $110 in cash stolen.

Approximately $900 was taken in petty theft and house-breaking throughout the city.

Unrest In Germany May Come This Winter, U.S. Officials Say

FRANKFURT (AP) — High U.S. intelligence sources said today that overcrowding, hunger and economic uncertainty might cause "bad unrest" in Germany in the winter.

But, they said, the United States army doesn't expect much Nazi subversive activity. Anti-American resistance, they added, is "at its dullest," though a "careful watch" is being kept on German veterans' organizations, termed "the biggest potential threat to our occupation."

"We have plans to meet any possible trouble in the American zone," said these quarters, speaking unofficially. "It's problematic whether there will be any, but all the potentialities are there."

They listed these major factors:

1. Population increases. U.S. zone population is expected to jump to 17,450,000 by the end of the year — against 16,000,000 three months ago and 14,000,000 in 1933.

2. Overcrowding: Available Housing is taxed 43 per cent over 1939 standards; there is not enough for all new arrivals, even though "most Germans live like sardines."

3. Food: The German crop was better than expected, but the minimum calory ration for Germans depends on grain shipments from the United States—"we're going to feel the effects of the shipping strike right in the middle of the winter, when we can least afford it."

4. Major crimes are dropping, but "potentialities exist for a crime wave."

"Add up these factors," said the intelligence authorities, "and you have all the makings of trouble. If there is unrest, it can grow into disorder, and if there is disorder among the Germans, it can spread to displaced persons and have an effect even among our own soldiers."

Mayhew Endorses Community Chest Plea For Support

With just over $28,000 still to be collected on the $100,000 objective of the Community Chest, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., renewed his plea to Victorians to rally to the support of the 1946 campaign for the 23 "Red Feather" agencies within the chest.

He pointed out in his statement that the Victoria executive this year aimed for the highest objective in its history because additional agencies have been included and operational expenses have increased in keeping with higher costs of the times.

"These participating agencies," Mr. Mayhew concluded, "do a splendid work and through the Community Chest they have centralized their appeals for public support in a manner which makes it possible for all of us to give at a single time. On behalf of those in charge of the campaign I would like to ask every citizen of Greater Victoria to do his part in order that this splendid social and charitable work may continue without loss of impetus."

The residential canvass is nearest its individual quota with $19,424 having been raised on $22,000 objective. The special names division has now turned ini $42,235; business division $42,235; commercial $1,164; public services $4,512; iindustrial $966, and outside $213.

Denis Hagar, chairman of the chest, pointed out in answer to some complaints that people had been missed in the canvass, that in many instances the people had been out when the canvassers had called and that in most cases the canvassers called several times before giving up. These people, he asked, to bring their donations in to Prince Robert House or mail them, to speed the work of the collection.

Lawrence Burpee Dies In England

LONDON (CP) — Lawrence Johnston Burpee, LL.D., 73, of Ottawa, who was for 20 years secretary for Canada of the International Joint Commission, died Sunday night of a sudden heart attack while a guest at the deanery of Christ Church, Oxford.

A noted scholar and historian, Mr. Burpee private secretary to three successive ministers of justice in the government of Canada and was a fellow of both the Royal Geographical Society and the Royal Society of Canada.

Mr. Burpee was born in Halifax, March 5, 1873. He entered the Dominion civil service in 1890 and was appointed to the International Joint Commission in 1912.

He was a former national president of the Canadian Authors' Association and of the Canadian Historical Association.

Among his publications were; "Bibliography of Canadian Fiction," "The Search for the Western Sea," "Songs of French Canada," "Dictionary of Canadian History and Canadian Humor."

Report School Students Drink Lemon Extract

VANCOUVER (CP)—Information concerning alleged drunkenness among high school students in the Kitsilano and Lord Byng school areas was turned over to dry squad officials during the week-end.

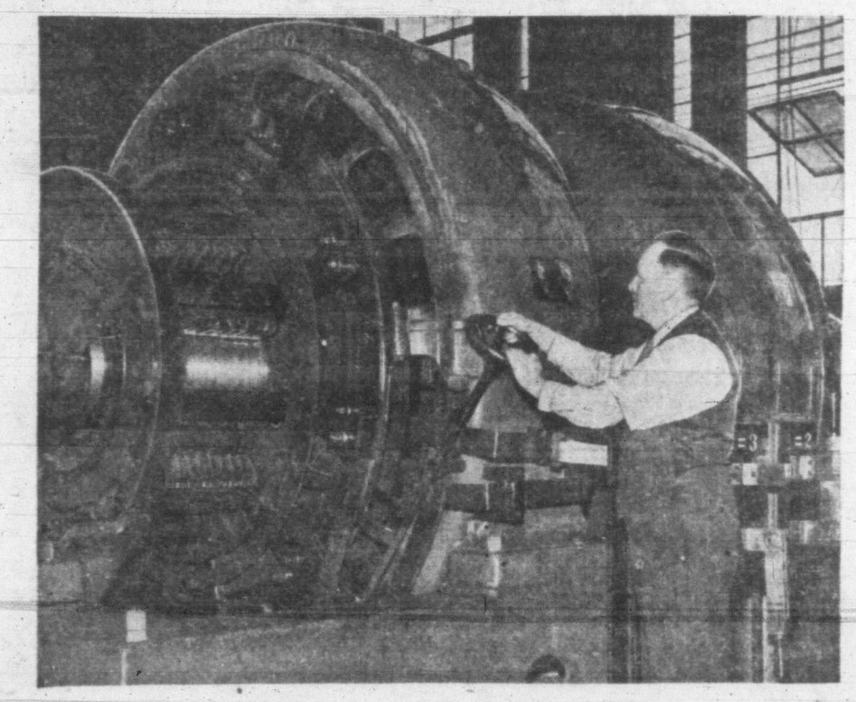
The information was volunteered by Bert Emery, Kitsilano businessman and parks board member, who said he had received it from three teen-aged representatives of a group of 15 Kitsilano High School students.

Inspector William McDonald, who received the information during an informal meeting in the Emery home, declined to comment.

The students charged in their brief that Lord Byng students were drinking lemon extract and had introduced the habit to Kitsilano students. Most of the drinking, the statement said was done during week-end parties in private homes while parents were absent.

"In spite of the fact that this sort of thing seems to be going on among only about 10 per cent of the students, they are making things bad for the rest of the schools by the consequence of their actions," Mr. Emery said.

Meet the "UTILITY FAMILY"



Whenever there is a power failure in any part of the city, be it day or night, you will find this man at the controls of the immense switchboards at the Bay Street substation anxiously looking for the source of trouble and trying to restore the disrupted service.

He is Ira Smith, chief operator of the substation, who boasts 35 years as a B.C. Electric employee, a good portion of which has been spent in substation work "keeping the juice rolling." In addition to this work Mr. Smith has engaged in various other departments of the company's operations, which makes him an employee fully aware of the value of keeping utility service maintained at a high pitch.

With a daughter and two sons who are also with the company, they form a stalwart part of the B.C. Electric's employee family. Daughter Dorothy is in the customer accounting department and sons Gordon and Ron are with the line department, maintaining the high lines which bring service into the substation.

Mr. Smith is an ex-Royal Flying Corps man from World War I. With the reputation of a man who "can do anything with his hands," his principal hobby is cabinet making and woodwork.

STALINGRAD, U.S.S.R.—Ragged, barefoot workmen trudge through the rubble of Stalingrad to their battered tractor factory, once more turning out farm machinery instead of tanks.

The ruins of Stalingrad stretch like a blotch on the earth across 40 miles. The ruins are ugly but the people who live here have an almost reverent feeling for their city. It was here the tide of Nazi conquest was turned. It is both an atrocity and a monument.

The same people who saved Stalingrad because they obeyed the order: "Die, but don't give an inch" now labor to bring order in the chaos of broken stone. They have a certain pride. It shines on the bristly face of an old farmer as he slaps the flank of a camel, beast of burden in the countryside.

"This handsome fellow is the real hero of Stalingrad," he smiles. "He carried the shells to Katushka when mud stalled the trucks."

We went to the Stalingrad tractor factory, built with the help of American engineers in 1932. It switched from tank to tractor production at the end of 1943 and is steadily getting back into production, with about two-thirds of the workers it had before the war.

Hopes To Make 6,000 Tractors In '46

The factory is not clean. It is not well-lighted. The work seems poorly organized. But I saw tractors coming off the assembly line. This factory, while still digging out and repairing war damage, hopes to make 6,000 tractors this year.

"How did you ever get back into production so quickly?" I asked the manager, a vigorous young man who has been in charge since the factory was built.

"We fixed up some of the equipment, not too badly damaged by fire. We cannibalized other machines, and we got some new ones from our Ural factories — well, anyway we got going again. And two and a half months after German soldiers saw this factory destroyed and smoking, they were amazed to see tanks we had repaired here —on the battle line hundreds of miles to the west," he said proudly.

He was happy. "We're getting some new machinery from America—it's the best."

The factory looms large in the life of the worker. He lives in a factory home, his children go to a factory school, he plays on a factory athletic team, his tiny ones are taken care of at the factory nursery while he and his wife work, and the factory doctor is the family doctor.

This average factory worker in 1940 earned about $360 a year—less than a dollar a day. The Five Year Plan calls for a 50 per cent boost—earnings for the average worker in 1950 of 6,000 rubles, or about $480 a year.

The government has kept the price of basic food rations for workers very low. But because of food scarcity, these items are not always available. "And what then?" I asked a worker.

"We can buy at the free market," he said optimistically.

I visited that market where farmers sell their produce. Typical prices: Potatoes, 25 cents a pound; milk, 55 cents a quart; meat, $1.46 a pound; eggs, $2.88 a dozen.

That's one reason why the government encourages a factory worker to have his own cow, chickens and garden. The more food the industrial worker grows himself the better. The factory manager hands out small plots of land to the workers and also helps them establish co-operative livestock breeding societies.

One of the great problems of Russia has always been getting sufficient food to the workers in the city—and it's impossible to build a strong industrial system unless there's an assured food supply.

Farmers Are Well Off Comparatively Speaking

Farmers are well off—comparatively speaking. In the towns a chauffeur gets about $85 a month, a stenographer, $44; an construction worker, $27; a policeman, $38 a month. But a farmer, by selling on the free market half a gallon of milk daily from his privately-owned cow, can make $360 a year from that alone. That's more than the entire salary of the construction worker.

Collective farming is a mixture of collectivism and private enterprise.

(Editor's note: Recent reports tell of a purge among collective farm officials in the Soviet Union who are accused of "introducing the principles of private property.")

("While I was in Russia," says Strohm, "I was surprised to find that the government sanctioned this private property. Farmers were encouraged to own a certain number of livestock, to sell livestock produce and produce from their privately-farmed plot of land on the free market.")

We met three ox carts from a collective farm, making their first delivery of grain to the government. They had celebrated the occasion by raising a huge picture of Stalin over the lead cart.

The driver and the farm chairman helped straighten out a few basic questions many of my farm friends had told me to ask:

"Who owns the land anyway?" was the first.

"The government owns the land, but collective farms (there are about 245,000) have the privilege of using the land."

"But where does the government come in — do you pay taxes?"

"No," said the chairman, "each farm has a quota and must make certain deliveries of grain and other crops at a very low price—really a rental fee for the use of the land."

"And after a farm meets these government deliveries, is there anything else it has to give?" I asked.

"Well, if the farm used machine tractor station equipment it pays a rental on these."

"And then?"

"The rest of the produce belongs to the members of the collective farms and is divided according to the number of labor-day each earned," was his explanation.

"It seems to me," I said, "that a farmer, who is a pretty individualistic fellow all over the world, would need more incentives than he has on a collective farm."

"But we have incentives," protested the chairman, and he gave an example: The work of the farm is divided into four brigades. The brigadier and his workers have the responsibility of tending certain fields, growing certain crops. For instance, the quota for a 20-acre field of wheat is 20 bushels to the acre. But if this brigade by its good work can make that field yield 28 bushels to the acre, then they've over-fulfilled the plan by 8 bushels, or 160 bushels in all. Under the incentive system, this brigade gets to divide one-fourth of this surplus, or 40 bushels, among their workers, according to the number of labor-days each put in during the year.

"And what's a labor-day?" I asked.

"A labor-day is the way we measure our various farm jobs. Cutting half an acre of hay with scythe is 1½ labor-days. If he can do that much in one day, he still gets his 1½ labor-days credit.

"Yes, but what about those jobs that just can't be measured that way?" I asked.

"Oh, but we have a measurement for all of them: For example: Hauling 15 cartloads of manure weighing 770 pounds each to where they plant the cucumbers is one labor-day," he explained.

On this farm, 119 workers (96 are women) tilled 960 acres of plow land. That's 8 acres per worker on the grain and vegetable and fruit farm. In the Ukraine on a grain farm it is a little more than that. In Byelorussia, on several farms visited they had about 7 acres per worker.

"The American farmer couldn't afford to use that much labor on his farm," I told them.

"Well, I see where Tass used your name this morning to answer President Truman," a correspondent remarked cheerfully as we sat down to breakfast in the Hotel Metropol on my return to Moscow.

I blinked. He showed me the story in Pravda. Headlined "Tass Explanation," it commented on the President's statement that correspondents could not travel freely in Russia.

The "explanation" was, in effect: "Mr. Truman doesn't know what he is talking about. John Strohm, president of the American Agricultural Editors' Association, is traveling freely about the Soviet Union right now and talking with the people."

'And What About The People . . . ?'

"And what about the people, are they looking for war?" my correspondent friend asked.

"I'm not a strategist or a physychologist," I replied, "but the words of one Russian sounded to me like good sense. He said: 'Anyone who says the Soviet Union wants war is crazy—unless it is our leaders who are crazy. The people have been living on promises of better things in the sweet bye and bye ever since the Revolution. They accepted World War II as an excuse why they could not achieve a higher standard. Now they want to work for peacetime goals. Our government must consider the people—not war."

The man who said that was not an official. So far as I could determine he was sincere and grinding no party axe. My eyes and ears can vouch for what he says of the hunger of the Russian masses for the good things in life which Communism has promised for 30 years as the reward for their sacrifices of self and liberty.

Whether the men in the Kremlin give heed to that hunger is something which no reporter, free or restricted, can answer. I have told only what I have seen and heard and pictured only what was before my lens.

Water, Water

MOSCOW — In a pouring rainstorm, the Moscow municipal street watering system was working full blast. A watering truck lumbered down the cobbled street spraying competition with the heavens.

John Strohm stopped a Russian and asked him "How come?"

"This is Russia," the man replied. "This is the hour for sprinkling the streets and nobody has told him not to."

Night Life

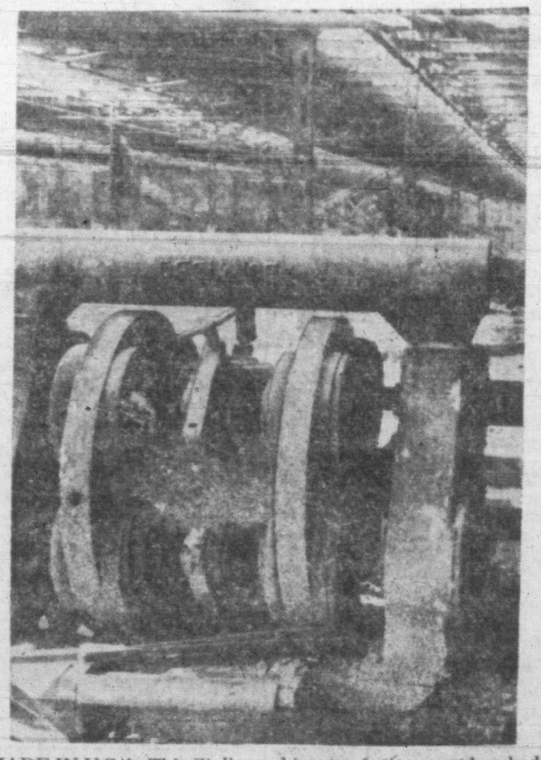
STALINGRAD, U.S.S.R. — It was nearly midnight and the streets of Stalingrad were thronged, John Strohm heard music and in the dark made out an accordion player who was making sad music for the young couples to dance to.

"Any place is better than sitting at home," said a 20-year-old girl who danced with Strohm. She and her little sister and mother live in a dugout under the ruins of what was an apartment building. Her father and brother fell in the battle of Stalingrad.

HUMAN MUSCLE MOVES STALINGRAD'S RUINS: Crews of women labor to clear the rubble of war from Stalingrad streets; some work barefoot in the broken bricks and stones they are moving by hand barrow.

THE CAMEL, DEFENDER OF STALINGRAD: This hero of the defence of Stalingrad now pulls a hay wagon on a collective farm across the Volga. Because trucks bogged down in the mud and made too much noise, camels were used by the Russians to lug heavy artillery, thus helped smash German panzers in the siege of Stalingrad.

FARM CHAIRMAN AND HIS BRIGADIER: This brigadier, on horseback, has charge of 240 acres, supervises the work of 50 women and 12 men on Soviet collective farm; he has two brothers in New York. Collective farm chairman at right gets a percentage of the gross income of the farm for his salary, receives a bonus if he remains chairman for more than two years, and another bonus if farm exceeds quota set by government.



MADE IN U.S.A.: This Stalingrad tractor factory was bombed, burned and shelled during the German siege of the city. Now factory workers are cannibalizing and reconditioning some of the machinery like that in foreground, which was made in America. New machines will be brought in, about 75 per cent Russian-made, although some will be purchased from U.S.

PHYSICAL CULTURE PARADE—Husky, well-built girls stride across parade grounds in physical culture demonstration in Minsk. In each republic, groups like this vie for chance to march in Moscow's All-Union parade.

DANCING LESSON—All the children at this machine tractor station near Stalingrad are cared for by two women while other adults of community work in fields or at other jobs. Here two children dance for the others.

BATTLE PASTURE—Above, cattle graze on former sites of homes that were demolished in the furious battle for Stalingrad. Scene is near Stalingrad Tractor Factory.

Motorcycle Hillclimb Thrills Big Crowd

Revival of the Victoria Motorcycle Club's annual hillclimb at Mount Douglas Monday afternoon drew a crowd of around 1,500. Dave White is seen struggling with his bucking steed as he battles to get over the top.

Thrills and spills were the order. Despite the fact many of the riders were taking part in their first event the big crowd was provided with plenty of excitement as the large field competed for the many prizes. With perfect weather and a tough course competition was keen.

Open event for the island championship was captured by Bill Winter with a ride that carried him 207 feet up the steep incline. Ted Hibberson finished in the runner-up spot with 175 feet while third place went to Les Blow with 163 feet. Winter took possession of the F. W. Francis Trophy.

In the Paul Giradeau Trophy event, with 20 riders entered, Blow went over the top in the fast time of eight and two-fifths seconds. Hibberson also completed the stiff ride in 10 seconds, followed by Dick Redlick in third place with a time of 12 2-5 seconds. This event determined the club championship.

The 45 cubic inch class for novices produced the fastest time of the afternoon when Hibberson guided his bucking machine over the top in seven and two-fifths seconds, just one second faster than Blow the runner-up. Third was Bob Akins with a time of 11 4-5 seconds.

In the 74 cubic inch event for novice riders Ted Fitzgerald was the victor, going over the top in the time of 11 1-5 seconds. Redlick finished second with a distance of 208 feet and Ritchie Jackson third with 195 feet.

FAST RIDE DISQUALIFIED

Officials pointed out that by the time the open event for the island title was held the hill was badly cut up, making it exceptionally tough on the boys trying to get over the top. Only unfortunate incident of the afternoon took place in the 45 inch event when Dave White took off before the electric timer was set and went over the top in what might have been the fastest time of the afternoon only to be disqualified by referee Dan Matheson.

Reeve A. G. Lambrick of Saanich officially opened the hillclimb. Hughie Francis was official timer with Les Scott and Frank Bayliss working as tapemen. Morrie Foxgord and George Wellburn did the heavy work in the pits.

During the afternoon a laurel wreath was placed at the bottom of the hill in memory of the club members who were killed overseas.

Cards Outplay Boston In Role Of Underdogs

By JACK HAND

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The world championship and $127,739 await the winner today as Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the amazing Boston Red Sox sophomore, opposes pint-sized Murray Dickson of St. Louis Cardinals in the finale of the 43rd world series. St. Louis tied the series at three games each by winning Sunday 4 to 1.

National League prestige, rocked to its foundation by the all-star game rout, during the regular season, has made a remarkable recovery in the Red Birds' split of the first six games but the power-laden Bostons remain the odd-makers favorite at a 13 to 20 price.

Another capacity crowd of 35,000 is expected to pack Sportsman's Park.

Ferriss' 4 to 0 shutout victory in the third game and his 25 to 6 regular season win record give the Sox an edge over Dickson, a renovated bullpen artists who piled up most of his 15 decisions since his first starting chance June 7.

On top of Ferriss' past performance chart that includes a series win over Dickson, there is a solid suspicion that the Sox, who never have lost a series, are due to break out at least once with a splurge of extra base blows.

Not even the stoutest members of the "Knock Ted Williams Society" would have figured he'd be going into a seventh game with only five hits, all singles. Williams has been stymied by the variations of the "Dyer shift" and heady pitching by the Cards who have given him very little to hit at. Most of his teammates join "The Kid" in thinking he is due to tee off on the righthanded Dickson.

OUTPLAY SOX

In the first six games, the box score figures show the Cards have completely outplayed the vaunted Sox who breezed to their pennant. St. Louis enjoys an edge in club batting .254 to .242, club fielding .987 to .956, only three errors to 10 and in both total hits and runs.

Seven Card pitchers have given fewer earned runs and pitched more complete games than the 10 Sox hurlers used by manager Joe Cronin.

Only in the game Ferriss worked did the Red Sox show a marked superiority. All season long the 24-year-old righthander from Shaw, Miss., has been noted for pitching just hard enough to win whether it was 1 to 0 or 10 to 9. He has been what Cronin happily describes as a "winning pitcher." Detractors have pointed out that he does not have a real blazing fast ball but his 21 freshman victories and 25 wins this season provide a mouth-shutting rebuttal.

Eddie Dyer's Cardinals have been an unpredictable lot since spring training. Yet when backed up against the wall they have fought back magnificently. That is why you can't count out the Birds even if Ferriss does give the Sox the pitching edge.

Dyer's closing pitcher, Dickson, often has been called a "righthanded Brecheen," although he really does not have as much "stuff" as the cat-like southpaw who kept the boys in the series with two important triumphs.

Mustangs In Narrow Win Over Meralomas

On the strength of two touchdowns and a field goal, Victoria Mustangs edged out Vancouver Meralomas 13 to 12 in yesterday's Big Four Canadian Football League battle at Athletic Park. Big Tom McKeachie, Victoria fullback, is seen carrying the ball for yards during one of the exciting moments. In the foreground is Victoria quarterback Steve Rynoski (11) while at the extreme right is Victoria lineman John Farmston. The game attracted a crowd of 2,000.

Flashing a powerful running and passing attack late in the third quarter after the Meralomas had broken the half time five-all tie with a deadline kick early in the period, the Mustangs came from behind to score a touchdown and a field goal and then hold off Vancouver's closing rush to notch their second victory.

Victoria drew first blood when they recovered a Meraloma fumble on their opponent's 10-yard line in the first quarter and went over on a 15-yard-pass from Toad Garnett to Frank Gower. The conversion was blocked.

Vic Spencer caught the Victoria defence napping in the second period, when the ball resting on the Mustang's 30-yard strip, he whipped a short pass to left end Baldry, who outguessed the safety man and went the remaining 25 yards to score standing up and tie the score at five all.

Taking a one-point lead just after the start of the second half on a deadline kick by Ernie Choukalos, the Meralomas were hard pressed to hold off the Victoria attack which bogged down on the 30 when a 15-yard penalty forced the locals to give up the ball.

The Mustangs' attack, which had been smouldering all afternoon suddenly caught fire late in the period as Vic Dale and Steve Rynoski ripped off 28 yards in two plays to put the ball on the 'Loma 35. Three line plunges by McKeachie and Garnett put the pigskin on the 18 as the quarter ended.

RYNOSKI GOES OVER

On the first play of the final quarter, Rynoski skirted around left end for six yards and set the stage for Garnett's second touchdown-pass of the day. Garnett, who turned in a brilliant job of signal calling rifled a bullet pass to Rynoski on the goal line for the score. The conversion attempt failed to leave the locals leading 10 to 6.

Seconds later the Mustangs took over on downs on the Vancouver 47 and in three plays had pulled their way to the Vancouver 13. Failing to gain on two line smashes, Johnny Fermston came out of the line and split the uprights with a placement from the 23-yard strip.

Far from beaten, the Meralomas stormed back and led by the hard-driving Choukalos picked up three consecutive first downs to drive all the way down on the Victoria eight-yard marker. Here, the Victoria defence stiffened just as suddenly as it had weakened, and the locals took over on downs.

A quick kick by Dale and a recovered fumble put the ball on the midfield strip. Another quick kick pushed the visitors back to their own 10.

With less than a minute to play, Choukalos who was a thorn in the side of the Victoria backs all afternoon, faded back to his goal line and heaved a 35-yard aerial to Hurlburt, who had sneaked behind the Victoria safety man, and he went the remaining 70-odd yards for the touchdown. The conversion was good to leave the visitors one point down as the game ended seconds later.

St. Andrews In 4-2 Victory Over Nanaimo

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrews moved into a top-spot tie with North Shore Reds in the Pacific Coast Soccer League Monday, defeating Nanaimo 4 to 2 before a crowd of 2,600 fans.

Bus Byford opened the scoring for St. Andrews after 12 minutes of play when he drove a shot at the Nanaimo goal which deflected off Ian McKay and past Archie Johnson, giving him no chance for a save.

Five minutes later, Frank Ambler took a long pass from Erling Storness, putting the Scots two up.

After the second counter, Nanaimo went on the attack and for a short time gave Bobby Newbod, in the St. Andrews nets, some anxious moments. Only the poor marksmanship of Jimmy Knight's boys kept them from scoring sooner than they did.

Frank Ambler made it 3 to 0 at the 27-minute mark when he beat Johnston with a hot shot to the bottom lefthand corner.

Nanaimo came through with their first counter on a three-way passing play between Bill Leigh, Alvin Parks and Jimmy Gold with Gold doing the scoring.

DENTON SCORES

In the first minute of play after the breather, Art Denton scored to put his team within one goal of the Scots. Play from then on was wide open with St. Andrews playing on the defensive in order to protect their lead.

However, Bill Findler's crew put the game on ice when Ted Enefer routed in a long pass from Jackie Whent. The score came when the ball caromed off a Nanaimo back.

The visitors were awarded a penalty shot shortly before the close when Nick Glover pulled down Gold. Parks took the kick, but Newbold made a great diving stop of a shot which was ticketed for the lower righthand corner.

Iceless Victoria Juniors Engage In 10-Game Schedule

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League officials endorsed a 61-game league season which has the mainland opener set for Oct. 27 at New Westminster with Vancouver the visiting sextette. On Oct. 30 at Vancouver Forum, Vancouver will be host to University of British Columbia.

Meeting over the week-end, P.C.J.H.L. moguls gave final approval to a playing schedule which has 17 Sunday contests for New Westminster and 16 Wednesday night games at Vancouver. Nanaimo will have 16 Saturday nighters and 12 games billed for Wednesday nights.

Each of the mainland and Victoria teams will play four Saturday and three Wednesday night games at Nanaimo. Victoria will make three appearances on the mainland with a proviso, that if extra ice be available, they play three extra games at Vancouver or New Westminster.

Vancouver, Nanaimo, U.B.C. and New Westminster each have 28 games in the league schedule with Victoria—without home ice at present—having 10 games.

Bucky Harris New Yankee Manager?

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Daily News, in a dispatch from St. Louis, said today that "it was learned from an authoritative source" Stanley (Bucky) Harris, former Washington, Detroit and Boston manager, would pilot the New York Yankees next season.

The dispatch said that the Yankee delegation—headed by President Larry MacPhail—was to meet at French Lick Springs, Ind., immediately after the world series where final plans will be drawn.

Jenkins Seeks Auto Speed Marks Friday

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Ab Jenkins today advanced the date of his high speed run on Bonneville Salt Flats from Oct. 21 to Friday, Oct. 18.

Jenkins will seek marks from 10 to 50 miles, attempt to boost his own records for all distances from 50 miles up, and will continue the run 24 hours if his new eight cylinder, V-motor speedster performs as expected.

Canadiens Open N.H.L. Season With Same Club

MONTREAL (CP) — While the other National Hockey League teams have been juggling frantically all during pre-season training for a winning combination, the Stanley Cup holding Montreal Canadiens have been sitting pretty, and new faces are scarce around their camp.

As a result, Canucks will take the ice this season with a squad that you won't find any difficulty in recognizing as last year's title-holders, and not much different from the outfit that has taken the historic old mug two years out of the last three.

Canadiens hit the deck next Thursday when they tangle at the Forum here with New York Rangers.

Coach Dick Irvin isn't saying much about his prospects — he isn't exactly the type to bubble over with enthusiasm—but it's been noticeable this fall that he is much happier and more quietly confident about the whole thing than he has been in a long while.

Dick's biggest worry in the pre-season grind, in fact, was how to weed his squad down to the 16-man—including goalkeeper—limit. He had so many good rookies and prospects in his camp it was downright embarrassing.

So he just played it canny and decided to stick with his winning combination.

DURNAN IN GOAL

Between the pipes of course is Bill Durnan, the league's leading goalie the last three years. It's become so hopeless trying to dislodge him that Canadiens finally traded Paul Bibeault, a netminder who deserves much better than a substitute's fate, to Chicago Black Hawks.

To keep the wolves away from Bill's door are such well-established rearguards as Kenny Reardon, big Butch Bouchard, Leo Lamoureux, Frankie Eddols and Glen Harmon.

As for the starting line up forward, keep it a deep dark secret, but you won't go far wrong on the punch trio—swivel-hipped Elmer Lach, Maurice Richard and the old minute man himself, Toe Blake. That threesome notched 145 scoring points among them last year.

When the big three are off the ice, the secondary line won't give opposing teams much respite. Buddy O'Connor is out with a broken wrist for a few weeks, so Kenny Mosdell likely will centre the line with battling Murph Chamberlain and Jimmy Peters on the wings.

Then on the third line there's scrappy little Billy Reay, a 29-point scorer last year, with Joe Benoi and Bobby Fillion.

Then, as utility man Irvin has George Allen, obtained from Chicago in the Bibeault deal, who notched 26 points last year and may be worked in on one of the secondary forward lines before the season is too old.

Travel Brisk On All Routes During Thanksgiving Holiday

Victorians, who today viewed the remains of Monday's Thanksgiving turkey and wondered if there was just one more meal left, spent a busy week-end traveling to up-Island points and to the U.S. and an equally busy week-end acting as hosts to travelers from those areas, according to a survey of travel agencies in the city.

Black Ball Ferry Line offices here reported heavy Canadian travel to Seattle. Returning Canadians bought out accommodation on the ferry Iroquois Monday evening.

Travel on Trans-Canada Air Lines flights to and from Victoria was so heavy an extra flight was put on Monday.

Canadian Pacific Air Lines reported all flights booked solidly through the week-end.

The C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Service Steamships carried many travelers. In anticipation of heavy travel, extra day sailings were put on Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines, catering to heavy travel up and down-island ran extra buses and reported travel over the week-end was easily double normal travel.

Travel in public vehicles was equally heavy and steady lines of cars passed along Vancouver Island highways all through the week-end.

Many Victorians took advantage of the crisp air and autumn-colored countryside to take short drives out to local beauty spots.

Alberni Government Agent Found Dead

J. H. Byrne, Alberni, B.C. government agent, was found dead in garden yesterday afternoon as a result of a gunshot wound and Provincial Police reported today that an inquiry will be held to determine the circumstances of his death.

The police reported that Mr. Bryne went out to shoot some rats in his backyard about 5 in the evening with a .38 pistol.

World Awaits Declaration 11 Nazi Leaders Executed

By THOMAS A. REEDY

NUERNBERG (AP) — The 11 condemned top Nazis, with only hours to live before they meet the hangman, ate their last dinner at 5.30 p.m. today, a slim meal of cooked porridge, bread and coffee.

Prison authorities said all were bearing up well.

They are to be hanged some time Wednesday at a time variously reported unofficially as anywhere from 12.01 a.m. to dawn at 6.36 a.m. (3.01 this afternoon to 9.36 tonight, P.S.T.).

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel asked his guards to give him a short notice before he walks to the gallows so he could "straighten up the cell and leave it neat." The fic'd marshal has had the neatest cell of all the war criminals throughout his confinement.

All the condemned men except Hermann Goering took the regular 10-to-20 minute exercise walks, manacled to prison guards, in the narrow corridor along the cell block.

Goering, once the second ranking German, slumped back in his cell and was alone throughout the day except for his watchful guard. He refused the exercise period.

It is expected the executions will take about three hours altogether and that a formal announcement of their completion will be forthcoming about 4 a.m. (7 p.m., P.S.T. today).

Town Topics

Monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion, Esquimalt Dockyard Branch No. 172 will be held in the branch hall, 622 Admirals Road, Wednesday at 8.

The Victoria Burns Club will meet at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8 tonight when the Masonic Choir will contribute to the entertainment.

W. C. Brown, superintendent of schools, Vancouver, Wash., was a visitor at the School Board office today, discussing problems of school administration.

Miss Grace Taggart, Miss I. M. Barket and Miss Mildred Ronson have written a letter to the City Council asking that a street light be installed at Taylor Street and Richmond Road.

A total of $110 was imposed in fines on persons who pleaded guilty to charges of being intoxicated in a public place by Magistrate Henry Hall in city police court today.

Ship's company of R.C.S.C. Rainbow I will parade at headquarters this evening at 7.15 for instructional films, and on Friday evening at 7.15 for general instruction. Class 7 duty.

Mrs. Eisie L. Hayes, 1618 Clawthorpe Avenue, has written the City Council asking that the banks of Bowker Creek be strengthened before winter sets in, because caving in is creating a danger.

Damage was caused to cars driven by Walter Gray, 391 Gorge Road, and Alec Onishok, 431 Government Street, when they were in collision at Albina Street and Gorge Road Sunday evening at 6.

Formal opening of the Victoria West preprimary division will be held Wednesday afternoon. During the day parents of the preprimary children have been invited to visit the class and see it in operation.

H.M.C. Dockyard employees, interested in forming a branch of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, will meet Thursday night at the Esquimalt Dockyard Legion Hall at 8 when local council members of the amalgamated will be present.

Several minor fire calls were answered by the City Fire Department Sunday. Fire caused by a defective fireplace in the Lethbridge Apartments, 520 Menzies Street, was caught by the firemen before any serious damage could be done. Grass fires were put out at 1840 Chestnut Street and at Sumas and Jutland Roads. There was one false alarm.

Washington State Per Capita Wealth Highest In U.S.

Three speakers of national prominence in thrift and home-financing affairs of the United States addressed sessions of the Washington State Savings and Loan League in annual convention at the Empress Hotel in Victoria Monday night and today. They came here from their country's capital, Washington, D.C., and Chicago for that purpose.

Ormand E. Loomis, executive assistant to the commissioner of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, principal speaker at Monday night's banquet, pleased the 150 executives of financial institutions from across the border by quoting recent figures assembled by the governmental agency he represents showing that the per capita wealth in the State of Washington is higher than in any other state of the union and that the percentage of home ownership among residents of Washington and Oregon is higher than in any of the other states. Regardless of this, however, he made an eloquent plea for still greater savings.

Robert T. Souter, assistant vice-president of the United States Savings and Loan League, headquarters at Chicago, said that the savings and loan business in the United States, according to an up-to-date compilation, is almost $10,000,000,000 in size and is currently growing at the rate of $1,250,000,000 a year.

Oscar Kreutz, executive manager of the National Savings and Loan League, headquarters in Washington, D.C., said that more stable business conditions are ahead and will probably be realized in another year or so after the country goes through a period of readjustment which inevitably follows the close of a war economy.

State league president, Richard H. Shorett, in his annual report said the combined statements of the institutions of Washington State represented at the Victoria convention showed, at the end of the last calendar year, a $32,430,773 increase in assets and that savings increased almost $27,000,000 in the same period, the associations crediting more than $2,700,000 to accounts of their savings members in earnings dividends.

James W. Woodford, a director of the Seattle Federal Savings and Loan Association, kept the assembly in the banquet room in good humor by his remarks as toastmaster.

The convention will end late today with the election of officers for the coming year.

Quiet Week-End For Police, Firemen

Cars driven by George Haslam, 814 Fort Street, and Dr. J. F. Fysoe suffered considerable damage at 4.30 Sunday morning when in collision at Fort and Blanshard Streets.

S. G. Watson, 1060 Southgate Street, reported to police that a spare tire and wheel were stolen from his car parked outside his home Saturday night.

Mrs. K. Aitken, 1035 Caledonia Avenue, reported to city police a prowler tried to enter the home of Mrs. E. Hundleby, 1745 Davie Street, about 9.30 Saturday night.

H. C. Ketcheson, Vancouver, staying at 504 St. Charles Street here, reported to city police a navy blue leather handbag stolen from his car parked outside the house Sunday evening.

Fred Owens, Port Alberni, reported to police the loss of a pair of binoculars and a flashlight from the glove compartment of his car parked outside the T.B. Pavilion of the Jubilee Hospital Sunday evening.

There were no fires over the week-end.

George Okell will talk on appraisals at the luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board at the Empress Hotel tomorrow at noon.

U.K. Begins Import Of Finished Goods Says Clutterbuck

SIR A. CLUTTERBUCK

Britain's postwar austerity, which led her to confine herself to the importation of foodstuffs, and raw materials needed to rehabilitate her industries, has now become less severe and she has begun a modest import of manufactured goods, Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, K.C.M.G., United Kingdom High Commissioner in Canada, said in an interview at the Empress Hotel today.

Britain, Sir Alexander said, was bringing to the forefront her scientists and engineers, hoping to turn to good use the initiative shown during the war.

A typical example of that, Sir Alexander said, was the use of the Bristol Freighter, airplane freight carrier, which visited Victoria Monday.

The war had strengthened Canada-U.K. relations tremendously, the High Commissioner said. Relations were much closer and more intimate.

In addition, Sir Alexander pointed out, Canada acted as a bridge between the U.K. and the U.S. Canada knew the U.S. better than Britain did, and knew Britain better than the U.S. did, he said.

It was difficult at present to say what the possibilities of British emigration to Canada in the future were, he continued, as each country wanted to first establish its men in peacetime living again, but he did know there was a tremendous desire among the people of Britain to travel after six years of isolation in the U.K. There was a particular interest in Canada, he added.

MIXING OF PEOPLES

Now that travel to Canada by air has been made so easy, Sir Alexander saw a great mixing of the peoples of Canada and the U.K. "One can already see that in the interchange of ministerial visits."

Under terms of the loan agreement with the U.S., Sir Alexander saw a simplification and betterment of business transactions between Britain and the rest of the world, including Canada.

Under the agreement with the U.S., Sir Alexander pointed out, the U.K. had agreed to make sterling, derived from current transactions, convertible into any other currency within a year of the loan agreement coming into force. The year would be up by next summer, he said.

Sir Alexander is greatly impressed with his trip across the country and is convinced such a trip is necessary before one can become aware of the vastness of Canada.

He also notes that Canadians have developed great awareness of the importance of the north country owing to air travel and the interest taken in it through the war.

Wednesday Sir Alexander will present an ensign to H.M.C.S. Uganda at Esquimalt and address a luncheon meeting of the Canadian Club.

Meet Today On College Problem

With the special committee appointed by Premier John Hart slated to meet this afternoon to consider the problem of finding adequate accommodation for Victoria College, the students continued their tabulation of the signatures on the petition which asks for Normal School building.

At noon today the count had reached 10,350 signatures and hopes were high that it would pass the 20,000 mark.

At noon today the count had reached 10,350 signatures and hopes were high that it would pass the 20,000 mark.

All during the long week-end students canvassed the residential areas of Greater Victoria and reported that practically everyone asked signed the petition willingly.

They plan to present the petition, with the signatures to Premier Hart today, and the student delegation will be headed by Terry Garner, president of the students' representative council.

A meeting of the College Council is being held this evening, at which it is understood reports on the situation will be given.

Best Collections In City Tax History

The most prosperous year in the history of Victoria so far as tax collections are concerned was forecast today by Mayor Percy George when he announced that almost 91 per cent of the record 1946 levy had already been paid in by taxpayers.

On the levy of $1,693,857, according to figures given by D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, $1,540,700 has been collected to date.

Mayor George stressed that this is well ahead of the 1945 figure, when a record was set with 94.5 per cent of the levy being collected by the end of the year.

At the present time taxes are being paid at the rate of more than $2,000 a day.

Smith To Survey B.C. Before U.K. Posting

Lt.-Col. H. F. E. Smith, whose appointment as industrial and trade representative for the B.C. government in the United Kingdom was announced Saturday by Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres, will make a thorough survey of British Columbia before proceeding overseas.

Mr. Eyres said it was recognized that Great Britain was Canada's best customer and it was the desire of his department to advance the trade between the two nations to the fullest extent. Col. Smith will be attached to the executive staff of the Agent-General in London, W. A. McAdam, and will carry out the policy of the department under the direction of Mr. Eyres.

"The representative's work will be specifically concerned with the interests of trade and industry in the province and will be co-ordinated with the work of the federal trade commissioner service in London and throughout the United Kingdom," said Mr. Eyres. "His directive will also be related to the work of the Dominion agricultural representatives in London and the specialist trade commissioners under timber and other headings."

Col. Smith is a well-known Vancouver businessman, having lived in B.C. since 1908. For many years he was connected with Smith, Davidson & Wright Ltd., wholesale and manufacturing stationers and paper dealers in Victoria and Vancouver.

Educated in Vancouver public schools and the University of British Columbia, he served overseas from 1941 to 1946 as squadron commander with the B.C. Dragoons, and G.S.O. 1, directing staff, Senior Officers' School, Oxford. He was also director of Extension Khaki University of Canada in the United Kingdom.

Forest Probe Chief From Ontario Here

Maj.-Gen. Howard Kennedy, C.B.E., M.C., formerly quartermaster-general for the Canadian Army, who is now conducting a Royal Commission inquiry of the forest industry of Ontario, today is visiting the scenes of logging operations at up-island centres.

Accompanying him are officers of the provincial government's B.C. Forest Service, including C. D. Orchard, chief forester, E. W. Bassett, forester in charge of forest protection, and F. S. McKinnon, forester in charge of the division of forest economics, and officers of the Dominion government's insect control board.

The party today and Wednesday will visit logging operations near Nanaimo Lakes, and Northwest Bay, south of Parksville, and Cathedral Grove and plantations near Campbell River.

Gen. Kennedy is studying methods being used to fight insects in British Columbia. Spruce budworm, hemlock looper and bronze birch bore are doing five times as much damage to Ontario forests as fire, he said.

Monday, Gen. Kennedy met provincial government officials in Victoria.

Arthur Barber Dies

Arthur William Barber, 75, passed away at Royal Jubilee Hospital Monday evening after a lengthy illness. He was a resident of this city for a quarter of a century and for many years was a member of Metropolitan Church choir. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Vancouver, and Mrs. R. Rusterholz, 1838 Oak Bay Avenue, also two sons, Gilbert, of Hamilton, Ont., and Arthur, 1024 Pandora Avenue. Funeral will be held Thursday at 2, Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse officiating.

E. Ferguson, pleading guilty to a charge of dangerous driving in police court today, was fined $35 and had his driver's license suspended for three months.

Back At Yakima, Explorer Tells Of 'Headless Valley'

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—A new "legend," to explain all previous Indian legends, was brought back by James Watts, 33-year-old teacher, from the unmapped wilderness Nahanni country of the Northwest Territories, home of tales of head-hunting Indians and disappearing white men.

Long overdue on a summer hunting and prospecting trip, Watts, his 24-year-old wife, Beatrice, and her brother, Edward Ross, 18, finally returned here.

The short, husky geologist said that in a country where the thermometer often drops to 72 below there also is a sheltered semi-tropical valley, warmed by hot springs and geysers, a "freak" area similar to Yellowstone National Park. Mastodons and prehistoric mammals may have roamed the swampy muskeg.

"It may sound fantastic," Watts said, "but there it is."

At present a search is being organized in the Nahanni country for John Patterson, 55-year-old veteran prospector, now more than six weeks overdue on a trip into the mysterious valley called "Headless Valley." Of the 13 white men said to have disappeared there in the last eight years, the bodies of two brothers named McLeod were found some years ago with the heads missing.

Watts believes the Indians invented some of their "legends" to keep white men out of the favored land.

"The first trappers and priests that went into northern Canada maybe 100 to 150 years ago, heard about the Nahanni country from Indians," Watts told John L. Reddin, a Seattle Times reporter.

"They described huge prehistoric monsters that supposedly lived in this valley and told us of huge, bearded white men who periodically raided their villages and were cannibalistic. Pure fiction undoubtedly. But, on the other hand, they drew pictures of these animals on deerskins which are perfect likenesses of prehistoric mastodons.

"What probably happened," he continued, "is that these Indians were smart and didn't want the white men to come into their territory. So they invented the legend to scare off white men and other Indians.

"It's entirely possible, however, that mastodons frozen into the glaciers or fossils from prehistoric mammals were the inspiration for their sketches."

Watts and his companions ran low on food and lived more than two weeks on squirrels and the meat and viscera of the few fish they could catch from streams filled with glacial silt, he said. They finally reached a trapper's outpost and eventually got back here, a month after his high school had opened.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 3 and set a definite time every morning. When you get regular every morning cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1.

Then try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 3 to 1—to fit the needs of your individual system. Without disappointment.

Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract not half way, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for thorough, easy action.

Thousands can cut down on laxative dosing this Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any drugstore—35¢, 70¢, $1.00. Start the Carter graduated dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow rarin' to go.

B.C. Man Begins World Air Tour

With as little unconcern as if he were purchasing streetcar tickets, a Vancouver businessman, Edward F. Gundry, fishing net manufacturer, stepped into the local Trans-Canada Air Lines' ticket office last Saturday and picked up tickets that will take him around the world by air. As far as is known it is the first trans-world air passage sold in Canada.

Mr. Gundry's itinerary is studded with names made famous by the war. He left Saturday afternoon for San Francisco for the initial over-water hop to Honolulu. Then comes Canton Island, Suva, New Caledonia and Auckland. A few hours in the air takes him to Sydney.

From Australia there are remarkably few stops on the route to the United Kingdom. They are Darwin, Singapore, Karachi in India, and Lydda in Palestine.

Mr. Gundry is not out to break any speed records, however. He will spend Christmas and New Year's in Australia at a time when summer is at its best. He will arrive in England in late January and will make his way home by Trans-Canada Air Lines' Atlantic service when he was toured Europe thoroughly.

OTTAWA (CP) — A modern office building and hotel will be built in Montreal by the Canadian National Railways on the site of the central station there, with work to proceed when conditions in the construction industry permit, Transport Minister Chevrier announced at the weekend.

Millions In Europe Talk Of War Coming Between Soviet, West

By ROSS MUNRO

PARIS (CP)—From Paris to Berlin, millions of people in Europe, looking cynically at the hard-won peace, are seriously concerned over the possibility of war between the Russian group and the western nations.

The disputes at the Peace Conference here, the creation of a semi-military frontier down the length of eastern Europe from the Baltic to the Adriatic, the never-lessening tension, and the terrifying degeneration in relations between east and west in Europe provide an alarming picture to Europeans, living in a traditional battlefield.

MUCH LOOSE TALK

Fears that haunt Europe are compounded of a spate of loose and frequently completely irresponsible talk of war which has increased during the last three or four months on the continent.

In three typical cities of western Europe, Paris, Berlin and Brussels, I've heard over the last few months unfeigned, inflammable war talk that makes one's skin creep. It is as depressing a development as Europe has seen since the end of the last conflict.

The really serious aspect is that you now meet scores of people, some in responsible positions, who seem to accept the inevitability of war with the Soviet.

In Berlin, a senior officer spoke openly of the probability of a fight. Another expressed sincere concern to me as to how he would get his wife and daughter out of the city in time before the "balloon went up."

Belgian friends in Brussels, one of the most prosperous and settled capitals in Europe, talk with bewildering alarm at the outlook in Europe. When Hon. Brooke Claxton, head of the Canadian delegation to the Peace Conference, was here in September he was given a reception. Within 15 minutes, three Belgians asked him whether he thought there would be another war before long.

The Paris conference itself has hardly been a peace conference. Suspicion, distrust, stubbornness and fear have dominated its proceedings from their beginning. In private, war talk is mixed with peace talk among many delegates.

PARALLEL TO 30'S

A leading delegate from a western country said this to me the other day: "We have seen exposed in the Nuernberg trials the way in which aggressive war is started. There seems to be a remarkable parallel today in Europe to the situation in the late 1930's. It is a terrible prospect for humanity."

Leaders on both sides are deeply disturbed over the continuing rot in international affairs. I was talking with a Yugoslav cabinet minister one night when he suddenly threw up his hands in despair and said: 'Everyone wants peace, but everyone is working against it."

Europe, however, is not without its optimists. They argue that the continent's marathon crisis will eventually resolve in stable settlements.

OTTAWA (CP)—Greece is negotiating with Canada for a $30,000,000 loan, Andre N. Stratos, Greek Minister of Labor, said in an interview here. Main purpose of the loan would be to pay for shipments of Canadian wheat allocated to Greece by the World Food Board.

Mack's All Stars Beat Calgary Again

CALGARY (CP)—Earl Mack's American League all-stars Saturday afternoon entertained a crowd of 1,600 Calgarians with a display of trick and comedy baseball at Buffalo Stadium—incidentally winning 14 to 5 over a Calgary all-star club that at times showed surprising power against the major leaguers.

Now you too, will hustle off to buy Canada Savings Bonds

THIS WEEK will see you hustling off to your bank, investment dealer, stock broker, trust or loan company to sign up for Canada Savings Bonds. You won't count on a salesman—this time there will be fewer salesmen. They will not be able to call on everyone. So it's up to you to take advantage of this fine investment opportunity—without delay. Of course if there's a Payroll Savings Plan in operation where you work, you can sign up for your bonds there.

You can buy Canada Savings Bonds in units of $50, $100, $500 and $1000. You may buy up to $2000 per person. They pay 2¾% interest each year for ten years. Your bonds will be registered in your name, providing protection against loss. You can cash Canada Savings Bonds at full face value, with interest, at any time at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank. They are better than any comparable form of saving . . . providing a higher return than you can get to-day on any investment as safe and cashable.

In a recent survey, 82% of those Canadians interviewed said they wanted to keep on buying bonds. No doubt you feel that way too. So figure out how much cash you have, and how much you can save during the next twelve months, then place your order for Canada Savings Bonds—right away.

8 out of 10 will buy again....

"I must be getting absent-minded—forgot my Fort Garry Coffee this morning!"

"Thanks to you, Grandpa Kruschen . . .

My Backache Gradually Disappeared"

Could any woman tell a happier story about backache than this:

"About 6 weeks ago I started having awful pains in my back. At times I could not straighten myself and I got depressed and worn out. I could scarcely carry on with my household duties and everything was being neglected. It was then I saw a Kruschen advertisement and I decided to give Kruschen a trial. I started by faithfully taking a small teaspoonful in hot water in the morning, and in three weeks—my word, what a difference! The pains gradually disappeared and though I am now 46, I really feel years younger."—Mrs. H. M.

There is always a cause of backache: and in many cases it can be traced to toxins or poisons, which stay in the system instead of being eliminated. And that is where Kruschen saline treatment can be of real help to you. Kruschen is a balanced combination of mineral salts . . . and its action is to help your organs of elimination. By taking Kruschen faithfully for a few weeks . . . as Mrs. H. M. did . . . many people have found joyous relief from wearisome backaches and rheumatic pains. The Kruschen saline treatment costs so little to try . . . Use it in your own case. Kruschen has helped others. Why shouldn't it help you? All drug stores have Kruschen at 25c. and 75c.

Diggon Moves Repeal Of Butcher Closing By-Law In Council

In an effort to partially clear the confused picture regarding the all-day Wednesday closing by-laws and their validity in Victoria, Ald. H. M. Diggon today introduced at the City Council meeting a motion for the repeal of the butcher store closing by-law.

If the repeal is allowed to pass without question it may forestall the law suit threatened by Safeway Stores which Sept. 27 filed a notice of application with the Supreme Court of B.C. to have the by-law quashed.

Under the terms of the Municipal Act, the council had 10 days in which to pass a resolution for the repeal of a questioned by-law in order to stop such a court action. This 10-day period was up last Thursday but to date no word has been received from the Safeway solicitors as to whether they intend to proceed with the action or drop it.

Under the terms of the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half Holiday Act, which granted the council the power to pass the original by-law, the by-law may be repealed by council when more than 50 per cent of the original petitioners for the by-law make a new petition for the repeal. The butchers have not presented any petition for the repeal, and all the smaller butcher stores are remaining closed Wednesdays, while the chain and department store butcher departments have started selling meat Wednesday mornings again.

The butcher closing by-law was passed by the City Council Sept. 3 and registered Sept. 9. The main grounds on which it has been challenged are that the council took more than 30 days to give final passage after first introduction of the petition requesting it.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is Nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from any druggist and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Good Support Given Scholarship Fund

Gordon O'Brien, general secretary of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, told a meeting of the Victoria and Island Branch that a strong financial support from various industrial concerns was being received by the institute for its scholarship fund.

Purpose of the fund, he told the meeting at the Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton, was "to co-ordinate and promote fruitful research in problems pertaining to the agricultural industry of Canada."

Mr. O'Brien, recently returned from overseas where he served as a captain in the R.C.C.S., is making a coast-to-coast tour to meet various provincial branches of the national organization and confer with provincial and university departments of agriculture officials.

Giving a brief account of some of the activities of other branches of the institute across Canada, Mr. O'Brien stressed the need of unification of agricultural policy and purpose in each province if agriculture were to prosper. He said a national policy of agricultural research was more productive of results over a period of time than might be attained by a provincial or isolated effort.

E. R. Hall, assistant superintendent of the station, was appointed secretary-treasurer of the Victoria and Islands branch, succeeding Bruce Dickson, recently transferred to the Dominion Experimental Farm at Agassiz.

J. J. Woods, superintendent of the station is president of the local branch.

New members introduced at the meeting included J. T. Gillingham, a farmer in the district; H. J. Kemp, who has charge of machinery designing at the station; E. Lopatechi, newly-appointed chemist at the laboratory of plant pathology, and N. Putnam, assistant field crops commissioner for the provincial government, Victoria.

Esquimalt Students Receive Awards

Awards were made to 27 students at the Esquimalt High School annual prize-giving and opening exercises. A dance was held in the school auditorium during the evening.

Barbara Frankham, now attending Victoria College, received the Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E. bursary award for being the highest ranking student in the school.

Students' Council Cup awards were presented to Doris Barnsley and Betty Sims, for girls' sports, and to William Stephenson and Warren Pready in the boys' division.

David Dornan received the cup for the best all-round student and the award for the job study essay offered by the Department of Education.

Prefects' pins were presented to Grace Barnsley, Doris Barnsley, Ivy Bulmer, Mary Dickinson, Joyce Robinson, Marilyn Mackenzie, Betty Webb, Marie Gillard, Michael Hanna, Don Jones, Don Macleod, Wilfred Lessard, Warren Pready, Bill Floyd and William Stephenson.

A book award from the Department of Education to the Drama Club was received by Margaret Wishart. Literary and artistic awards in the journalism class were received by Joan Davies and Maurice Tate, respectively.

Special awards for science and mathematics were made to Mary Dickinson and Evelyn Dabinette.

Relief Coming For Island Bees

Some relief is forthcoming for Vancouver Island bee colonies which face a grim winter because of shortage of stores.

It was reported today that as a result of representations made by the Vancouver Island Beekeepers' Association an allowance of sugar for feeding existing colonies of bees may be secured in some cases by requesting it on a form obtainable from the assistant provincial apiarist and supplying supplementary information.

The assistant provincial apiarist, in a letter to the Vancouver Beekeepers' Association, has warned no sugar will be granted for beginners, or anyone keeping bees for a hobby, or producing honey for their own use only. This is a ruling of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Beekeepers who already have colonies of bees and who produce honey for sale, may, by complying with the instructions of the ration board, and securing the approval of the assistant provincial apiarist, obtain a specified amount of sugar per hive, either in the fall or the spring, but not both.

Members of the association should get further information from the secretary of the association.

No. 59 L.A.A. Workshop (A) R.C.E.M.E. will parade Thursday at 1945 hours. Dress will be roll-call order with belts web.

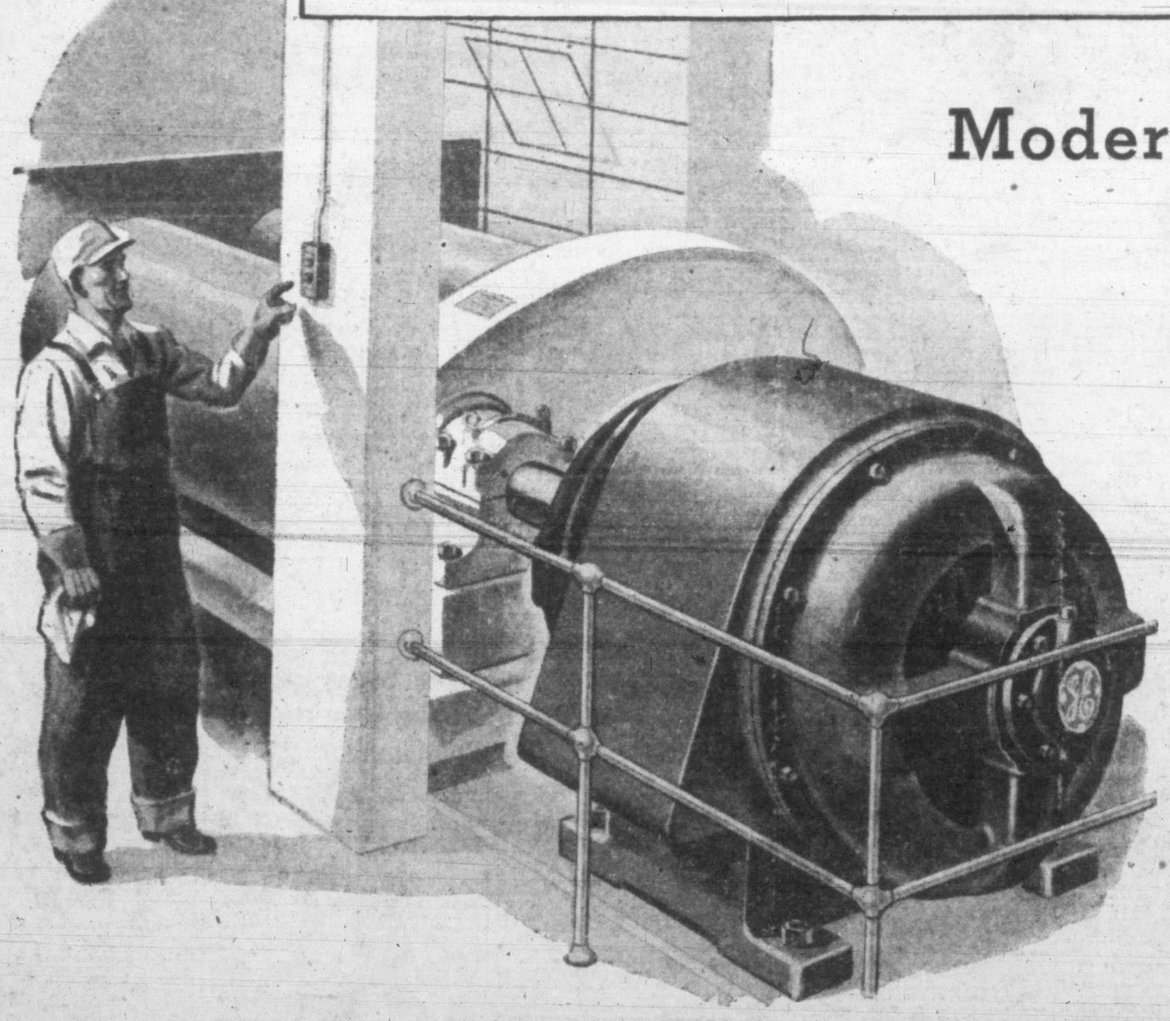
THE ELECTRIC MOTOR...



Modern Workhorse of Industry

Wherever driving power is needed the versatile electric motor is hard at work . . . helping Canada take possession of its natural resources from mine and forest. It drives the refining and processing equipment as well as the machines that make the finished goods. You'll find the electric motor on the farm . . . helping the farmer as his best hired hand. In the small workshop too, the electric motor makes work easier and more profitable for the owner. Everywhere this dependable modern workhorse is increasing output and lowering cost, enabling us to utilize ever more widely our resources of abundant low-cost electric power.

GENERAL ELECTRIC MOTORS

For half a century Canadian General Electric has been Canada's leading manufacturer of electric motors. Dozens of different types are built, ranging in size from 1/20 horsepower for tiny fans to huge 9000 hp units for large mills. To make the electric motor even more versatile and flexible the Company produces motor starters, speed controllers, electronic devices, and other control equipments that enable the electric motor to perform tasks considered impossible a few years ago. To assist you in the selection of motors and control best suited to your needs, Canadian General Electric maintains a staff of experienced engineers.

FARM

Located on the interurban road, this farm of 12 acres offers great possibilities. Approximately five acres under cultivation. Good soil, well drained and southern aspect. Some really good timber also available. The land has been subdivided and several desirable building lots could be sold while still retaining the cultivated land. A small shingled cottage on the property, recently painted and decorated, will provide a comfortable, modest home until it is possible to build something better. Also small barn and chicken house. Twelve minutes drive from the city centre, with store and post office near the property. Don't expect modern buildings, as the property alone is well worth the price. Some terms to responsible people. Price $6000

Spirited Upswing In Paper Trading

MONTREAL (CP) — Papers staged a spirited upswing in trading up to the final hour today, though top marks were not retained in some cases owing to profit-taking. In transfers generally, key groups were higher in the indices except golds, which were lower.

Paper gains mounted to more than 4 points and winners were the St. Lawrence group, Abitibi Stocks, Price, H. Smith, International, Great Lakes, Brown. Consolidated, M. & O., Bathurst.

Higher in industrials were Dosco, General Steel Wares, Massey, Asbestos, Hamilton Bridge, Marconi and Vickers.

Shawinigan and Quebec Power moved up in utilities.

Hollinger tumbled in golds.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

BRITISH FLAG IN U.S.

RECENTLY A WARM CONTROVERSY has been waging in Canada as to whether we should retain the Union Jack or substitute it with a distinctive Canadian flag.

In view of which I found more than ordinary interest in a matter that was brought to my attention the other day.

The Misses Morris and Anderson, well-known to local Summer School audiences as the English Duo singers, went to the New England states on leaving Victoria this year.

And they rubbed their eyes when they saw the British flag flying unchallenged from the cupola of the capitol building in Williamsburg, Va.

During their brief stay they were unable to find the reason for this unusual sight. But a Victoria friend, whose interest was aroused, wrote to the famous College of William and Mary of that city.

"GREAT UNION"

A FEW WEEKS AGO her curiosity was satisfied, when she received a letter from Mr. B. W. Norton, public relations officer of what is known as Colonial Williamsburg Inc., to whom the college directed her inquiry.

In explanation he delves into a little-known bit of American history of pre-Revolutionary days to explain the presence of this British flag on this New England city's capitol.

By the way it is not the Union Jack as we know it today, but the "Great Union," which flew over England during the Queen Anne period to which the old building belongs.

Some years ago, John D. Rockefeller Jr., undertook to restore the historic and beautiful old buildings of Williamsburg, including the College of William and Mary and the capitol which was built in the early 18th century.

"UPON OCCASIONS"

EVERY EFFORT WAS MADE to ensure the authenticity of the restoration work. Those to whom the task was deputed looked up the act passed by the House of Burgesses of Colonial Virginia in 1699 to provide for the erection of a capitol building in Williamsburg.

This act provided, among other details, that the building be surmounted with a cupola from which the flag would be flown "upon occasions."

So, after restoring the ancient structure upon its original foundations a decade ago, the restoration workers were confronted with the problem of replacing a proper flag.

Historians, architects, heraldic experts, officers of the American Flag Association and laywers were consulted over the matter.

Investigation revealed that the flag which would have been flown from the original Capitol was the "Great Union." preceded the present Union Jack.

ITS VICISSITUDES

THE EVOLUTION of "Great Union"—and the things that happened to it during the course of history—has a particular significance in the light of our own recent flag controversy.

According to heraldic experts, it was developed in the time of King James I, at the union of Scotland and England, by joining the red cross of St. George, patron saint of England, with the white cross of St. Andrew, patron saint of Scotland, on the latter's blue field.

After the dissolution of the union, under Charles I, the "Great Union" flag was not used. When Cromwell re-established the union he revived the flag but imposed an rish harp on it.

Following the Restoration, Charles I removed the Irish harp, and the flag with its crosses of St. George and St. Andrew became the British emblem again.

Since the "Great Union" was the British flag when Williamsburg was the capital of the then British colony of Virginia, it now flies from the restored capitol building.

For it was not until 1801 that the present Union Jack was adopted by Britain, after its legislative union with Ireland, at which time the cross of St. Patrick was added.

SHADES OF 1776

DURING THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR in the States, Williamsburg was the focal point of American patriotic activity, and the British flag was struck down.

On May 15, 1776, the Union Flag of the American States took its place at the cupola flagstaff, during a celebration of the resolution of the constitutional convention of Virginia, instructing the Virginia delegates to the Continental Congress to propose independence.

Before a British flag was again hoisted in the old city, the American Flag Association was approached and made this statement:

"We can see no objection to flying the obsolete British flag from the cupola of the Capitol of Colonial Virginia which has been reconstructed as a replica of the Colonial Capitol of 1705. As the British flag of 1705 was flown from the cupola of the original building in 1705 it is, in our judgment, entirely fitting that it should be restored."

All of which is, of course, in harmony with the motto on the crest of Colonial Williamsburg Inc.: "That the future may learn from the past."

CAPITOL THEATRE

Ray Milland, winner of the Academy Award for the best male performance of 1945, adds the 48th star of his flag of stellar roles as a dashing naval lieutenant in Paramount's comedy-romance, "The Well Groomed Bride," which is currently at the Capitol Theatre. Olivia DeHavilland, resuming her career after a two year absence from the screen, and Sonny Tufts co-star with him.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

In the 17th century, the period in which is set the Gainsborough film "The Wicked Lady," which is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, there were a number of attractive dances popular, including Sir Roger de Coverley, Bransles (called by the English brantles or brawls), courantes, minuets, gavottes and pavannes. One of the most fascinating of these period dances seen in "The Wicked Lady" is the Volte.

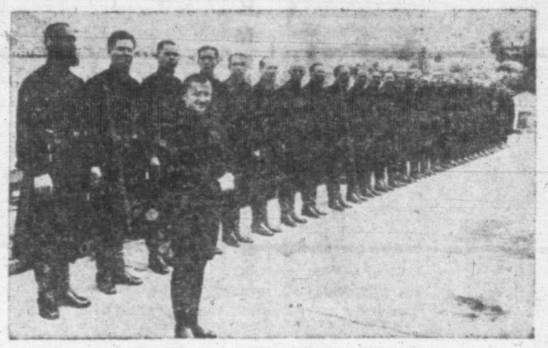
Don Cossacks Coming To Royal



World-famous Original Don Cossack Chorus, under the direction of diminutive Serge Jaroff, who will make a welcome appearance in Victoria October 22 at the Royal Theatre. The giant Russian singers have prepared a new program but will feature a number of their standby favorites as extra selections.

Cronin Best Seller On Royal Screen

A. J. Cronin's story of Robert Shannon, the little Irish boy whose fictional growth from childhood to manhood became a top item on the best-seller lists, now comes to the Royal screen in M-G-M's film version of "The Green Years."

The adaptation is a faithful one. All the tenderness, quiet humor and human qualities with which the author pervaded his portrait of a shy Irish youngster thrown into alien surroundings have been retained in the story's translation into camera medium and heart-warming experience.

YORK THEATRE

Those Hollywood trail blazers, Director Billy Wilder and Producer Charles Brackett, have a postwar idea that may revolutionize the motion picture industry. They plan to make films with the aid of television. The two men, whose recent Paramount drama, "The Lost Week-end," is now at the York Theatre, would like to try to eliminate the guesswork in movie making by setting up scenes with the aid of a television set.

RAY MILLAND is taken for a romantic ride by Olivia de Havilland in Paramount's delightful comedy, "The Well Groomed Bride," which is at the Capitol Theatre. Sonny Tufts is co-starred in the film.

Jungle Film Stars Milland, Lamour

The Dominion Theatre is showing, starting today, a breathtaking jungle picture "Jungle Princess," starring Ray Milland (the year's Academy Award Winner) and Dorothy Lamour.

Also being shown, as second feature, is "The Great Victor Herbert," with Allan Jones, and Mary Martin, in which such favorites as "Kiss Me Again," "I'm Falling In Love With Someone" and many others of the great composer's songs are sung.

ATLAS THEATRE

There's a treat for filmgoers in M-G-M's prize-package of entertainment, "Two Sisters from Boston," showing on the Atlas screen this week. For those who love romance, there's Kathryn Grayson and June Allyson, with Peter Lawford the lucky lad they're both after.

SOCCER RESULTS

In first division league soccer matches over the week-end, Victoria West and Oak Bay tied 2 to 2 and Esquimalt and Canadian Legion battled to a 1 to 1 deadlock.

RETAIN GOLF BROOCH

Mrs. M. Todd-Finney and Mrs. J. H. Todd successfully defended the E. D. Tood ladies brooch on Sunday afternoon at the Victoria Golf Club by defeating Miss I. Jarvis and Mrs. R. Fanthorpe of Gorge Vale Golf Club 2 and 1 in a hotly contested match.

CHARLES COBURN, AS GRANDPA GOW, gives little Dean Stockwell a lesson in the art of self-defence in a scene from "The Green Years," now playing at the Royal Theatre. The picture is based on the novel by A. J. Cronin.

Hollywood Column

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lauritz Melchior, who can be vocal on or off the stage and screen, says he is going to take his new duties seriously when he becomes a United States citizen Dec. 13.

In his baronial hilltop home, the mountainous Melchior explained why he hadn't raised his voice about his adopted land before: "When you're a guest, you don't tell your host what to do."

When the tenor is no longer a guest, but one of the family, he intends to plug for one of his pet projects. "I would like to see a new cabinet position—a secretary of state for arts and sciences," he announced in his rapidly improving English.

"Our young people must be able to go some place to learn something besides crooning."

Melchior described a recent contest he judged, in which young singers were given cash awards for further study. "After this money is used up," he said, "they will find no new opportunities and will end up being crooners."

If you're trying to ape the hair-dos your favorite actresses wear on the screen, you might as well give it up. That's the edict of Eunice, hair dresser for Eagle-Lion studios.

"What looks good on Hedy Lamarr, Greta Garbo or Sylvia Sidney, might be attractive on other women," she said, "but it wouldn't be practical. Film hair styles require an hour or more to prepare and a hairdresser in constant attendance the whole day of work."

When Mickey Rooney plays Chicago, it'll be his third name on a vaudeville date there. At 3, he was billed Joe Yule Jr., at 12, Mickey McGuire. . . cow-hands on the "Pursued" set have a mad on at local high school girls. It seems the bobbysoxers snap up all the blue jeans on the market and the western players can't find any.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — History, in the peculiar Hollywood sense of the word, was made yesterday when Rita Hayworth had several inches of her hair snipped off by a studio hairdresser. Rita giggled as husband Orson Welles supervised the production and a dozen press agents offered succor. Orson told me the studio head had instructed him to proceed with care in the shearing. "Remember, it's Hayworth," he quoted the executive.

After "Lady From Shanghai" Orson will do a Salome picture in London, with himself playing Herod.

Reports say Warners rushed Bette Davis' "Deception" ahead of the similar "Humoresque" because of their mad-on at John Garfield, who stars in the latter film with Joan Crawford. But they might also have done it to pacify Bette, who has become increasingly dissatisfied with the studio.

Friends are worried about Teresa Wright's delicate health. She went from "Best Years of Our Lives" to "Pursued" and next will do "Bishop's Wife." And she weighs but 102 pounds.

Reconversion note: Alan Curtis' version of Philo Vance won't be the fine-mannered Vance of yore. He'll be patterned along the tough, Dick Powell lines.

"Forever Amber" starts again today with the prospect of $3,500,000 budget—they hope.

Purely personal . . . Warners won't be pleased to learn that Wayne Morris has organized a team of former naval fliers to perform at air stunt shows . . . Jack Carson is courting Chili Williams these days . . . Brian Aherne has a solution to building troubles. He makes his own abode on his desert ranch . . . I asked Jimmy Durante if he had a swimming pool at his new home. "I been doin' widout a swimmin' pool for 50 years," said the schnoz. "Why should I start now?"

PHILLIP TERRY is seen as Ray Milland's brother in Paramount's drama, "The Lost Week-end," at the York Theatre.

U.B.C. Extension Lectures To Open

DOROTHY SOMERSET

"Drama in Canada" will be the subject of Miss Dorothy Somerset, assistant in dramatics with the Extension Department of the University of British Columbia, appearing in the first of a series of lectures to be given by the Victoria University Extension Association at Victoria College, Oct. 21. The series will include lectures by noted U.B.C. professors.

Miss Somerset is in charge of the recently-established credit course in dramatics at U.B.C. She was recently elected president of the Western Canada Theatre Conference, and is one of the directors of the new-organized Everyman's Theatre. For many years she has been a leader of amateur theatrical activities throughout the province and is a strong advocate of a Canadian National Theatre.

Bridge Tea—It was decided to hold a bridge party and tea at the Nurses' Home, Jubilee Hospital, Oct. 24, at 2, at the monthly meeting of Florence Nightingale Chapter I.O.D.E., with Mrs. T. Lumsden presiding. Mrs. Lumsden and Mrs. K. Mills will convene and Mrs. Molson Smith, G 2146, will be in charge of reservations. Mrs. Lumsden will represent the chapter at the semi-annual meeting in Nanaimo. Reports were given by Mrs. F. B. McLeod on postwar work, Mrs. F. M. Huelin, sunroom work at the Jubilee Hospital for which $15 was donated. Mrs. St. Clair Kitching reported that gifts would be sent to the chapter's adopted children at the Solarium, also a large supply of jam donated by members and a donation of $25. Mrs. G. Moody reported on work done in India. An account of the recent national convention was given by Mrs. J. L. Gates.

MISS WINONA CARRUTHERS

In all its many uses, ink is one of the most valuable commodities known to men. Industrially, however, it is but one of Canada's many Chemical industries which altogether employ some 90,000 Canadians—in over 900 plants.

In 34 of these plants, about 600 men and women are engaged in manufacturing ink. A small industry . . . but the initiative of small enterprises . . . the innovations of little businesses . . . provide the spur and incentive to industrial and commercial progress.

Right now some in the Ink Industry are planning a change in the chemistry of ink-making that will improve colour printing. This may have far-reaching effect on the entire printing and publishing industry.

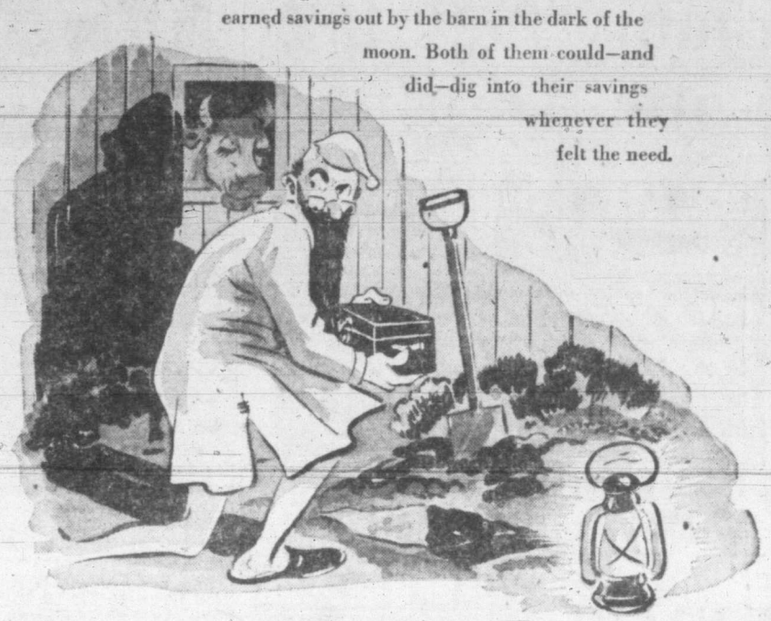
Uncle Zeke and Fido had the same idea

About the only difference was that Fido buried bones all over the place in broad daylight. Uncle Zeke used to plant his hard-earned savings out by the barn in the dark of the moon. Both of them could—and did—dig into their savings whenever they felt the need.



Your modern "buried treasure" may be in a much safer place. Ordinary methods of saving are fine, as far as they go, but they are subject to what too often happens to the best of human intentions.

On the Road

There is a large army of outdoor men who have learned to depend on Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Riding on trains or trucks causes a jarring which is hard on the kidneys as is also the exposure to all kinds of wind and weather.

This medicine goes to stimulate the action of the kidneys and relieve the backaches which so often result.

For over half a century they have been popular with railway men, truckers and farmers.
